Bellefonte Republican.

Established In 1869 | Let Us See To it that A Government of the People, for the People and by the People, Shall Not perish from the Earth."—A LINCOLN. | TERMS. $1.50 Per Yr. If Paid in Advance

VOL. XXXVIII | BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING. MAY 3, 1906. | NO 19

TEXAS TOWN DESTROYED!

The Deadly Work of a Cyclone on Thursday Night Last.

14 PEOPLE ARE DEAD,

Nearly One Hundred More Are Reported Badly Hurt—Only Three Houses Standing.

PROPERTY LOSS REACHES $175,000.

DALLAS, Tex., April 28 —The following was received by telephone at 12:30 Friday morning from a man on a telephone pole a mile from Bellevue which is the nearest he could get to that town, which was leveled by a tornado Thursday night:

"Bellevue is entirely destroyed. Of about 260 buildings, three only are standing. Persons who have just escaped from there say the ruins caught fire and burned. They give the following authentic list of names from among the fourteen persons dead:

"R. L. Russell, wife and four children.

"Ard Carr, crushed in building and cremated.

"Thomas Mount.

"W. W. Bell, candidate for county treasurer of Clay county.

"Two members of John Gray's family.

"Tatally injured:

"Two daughters of Nee Smith, of Bowie.

"Mrs. Gault.

"Mr. Gray and seven members of his family.

"Mr. Graw.

"Nearly 100 were badly injured. The largest merchandise losses are Bobbekey's flour mills, Nelson & Spivey and M. Spalding.

"The tornado was one mile wide, leveling everything in its path, ruining crops and destroying all farm houses and all on its way. It is reported that many more lives were lost and much damage done at Stoneburg and Hamilton. An effort is being made to establish communications with the stricken towns.

A carload of provisions was sent from Fort Worth Friday morning and tents and bedding were rushed from Wichita Falls.

Stoneburg, four miles from Bellevue, was also the scene of much damage.

The loss of property is estimated at $175,000. Reports from Bellevue Friday morning say the town is a complete wreck and the scene one of awful desolation. The ruins of 200 homes are still burning, and the people are overhelmed with the catastrophe that has rtaken them.

Death of Martin Funk.

Martin Funk, an esteemed resident of Port Matilda, died on Wednesday morning of last week, aged 68 years. 2 months and 22 days. He had resided all his life in Half Moon Valley and at Port Matilda. Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Rachel Funk, and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. E. H. Rothrock, Mrs. M, Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Alfred Eves, John Funk, all of Tyrone; Daniel, Ezekial and Elsie, at home. Three sisters and two brothers also survive him, Mrs. Sarah Ray, of Falls Creek; Mrs, Jerry Farber, of Philipsburg; Mrs. George Loner, of Stormstown; Weeley and Daniel Funk, of Altoona. He was a devout member of the United Brethren church, and a man above reproach, An invalid for eighteen years during which he suffered from asthma and heart trouble, he was never known to complain. His last illness extended over eleven weeks, dropsy causing death. The funeral services at the Black Oak U. B. church, Port Matilda, were conducted by Rev. T. P. Orner, at 10 o'clock Saturday. Interment in the Black Oak cemetery.

Look Here

We want you to know that we have the finest line of fancy pickles in town. A choice quality of olives, and sell them in bulk or bottle as you like. Fancy cheese of all varieties if you would have delicious things for your table get in the habit of visiting The Creamery Store, on the quare.

Bellefonte to the Front.

The beautiful is needed in our community life. We all have characters to build. strengthen and maintain. We need the beautiful. Dress and live as savages and we will soon become savages in action. The city or village totally void of beauty would be the abode of the sensual, immoral and lawless. A community of taste and beauty must necessarily be composed of refined and cultured people, and true culture leads to higher morality. There are about our town many things that are capable of improvement. Public sentiment will do much toward beautifying our dwellings, our streets and alleys. Neatness, taste and beauty will help us all. Our moral life will be higher and our social life purer.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

A Hiking club for membership of the Boy's Department will be organized tomorrow afternoon. The object of this club will be to visit points of interest in this vicinity. The first tramp will be taken Friday afternoon of this week.

There will be an important meeting of the Directors on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The special business of the hour should receive the attention of every member of the board

Our thanks are due Mr. Hunter, of the Index store, for a beautiful picture nicely framed which has been hung in the social room.

Who Wants to Correspond with This Fair Maiden?

Some time ago a botel keeper in this city purchased a lot of cigars that were manufactured in York county and on opening a box the other day was surprised to find a note neatly tucked among the cigars. As the hotel man is married and has a family, he does not feel disposed to enter into any such clandestine correspondence, so the field is therefore open to another. Here is the message, which explains itself:

Red Lion York Co., Pa.

"I am the maker and packer of these cigars and would like to correspond with the smoker of these.

Virgie Urhart."

Musical Concert.

The sacred musical concert given in the Baptist chapel, Marsh Creek, last Saturday evening was a splendid success. Prof. Joseph Pletcher, the musical director, deserves large commendation for the able leadership and instruction. Special mention should be made of Miss Gertrude Confer who presided so ably at the organ also of the singing of Miss Fannie Confer, the leading soprano and Miss Mary Croft, the expressive alto singer. In addition to the able local talent the thanks of all are due to the following for the excellent assistance given: Messrs. F. L. Wetzler, W. B. Thomas, and D. E Woodring of Milesburg, Prof. Pletcher of Howard and Mr. Koones of Blanchard. The concert was a delight and inspiration to all who heard it.

Candy and the Flag.

The following is accredited to the late Senator Hoar: At a Fourth of July celebration in a Canadian town where both English and American guests were assembled the flags of the two countries were used in decorations. A frivolous young English girl, loyal to the queen, but with no love for the stars and stripes, exclaimed: "Oh, what a silly looking thing the American flag is! It suggests nothing but checkerberry candy." "Yes," replied Senator Hoar, "the kind of candy that has made every body sick who even tried to lick it."

—Souvenir Postal Cards Garmans
Souvenir Postal Cards Garmans
Souvenir Postal Cards Garmans
Souvenir Postal Cards Garmans

—The Potter—Hoy Hardware Co. are endeavoring to save the lives of a million little "chicks" by placing "Chicks-eat" in the hand of the chicken raisers. It is a guaranteed food for the early life of the little chick.

—Zeke Dobson's clodhopper dance is one of the features that will be seen in "The Missouri Girl" at Garman's next Wednesday evening, May 2.

—Fine White Goods Garmans
Fine White Goods Garmans
Fine White Goods Garmans
Fine White Goods Garmans

—If you propose putting in a new pavement this spring, call on Haupt Bros., who can interest you in prices, workmanship and promptness on Cleveland sawed flag stone, split stone, concrete and granolithic paving, cement block walls, foundations, buildings, &c. D-1mo

FRANCE WILL DEAL FIRMLY

Premier Sarrien Makes a Speech Warning the Turbulent Element

LAW WILL BE APPLIED

Paris Is Assuming a Distinctly Military Aspect—Crowds Witness the Drills.

ONE SERIOUS DISTURBANCE OCCURRED

Paris, April 30—Premier Sarrien, in a speech delivered here Saturday gave warning to the disorderly element that the government purposed dealing firmly with any outbreaks on May 1. This is the first speech the premier has made in the course of the electoral campaign, and it dealt with all kinds of questions; but the principal interest attached to it was that portion giving the attitude toward the menacing labor situation.

'The first duty of a government worthy of the name," sand M. Serrien, "is to insure order in the streets and freedom to work without interruption. We are resolved to apply the law without passion and without weakness to all disturbers of the peace, whoever they may be whatever names they assume or whatever the end they seek. A country like France can prosper and develop commerce, increase wealth and ameliorate the lot of the members of its social fabric only through order, peace and work. Violence can only benefit the forces of reaction and discredit the noblest cause."

The city is assuming a distinctly military aspect. Military patrols have not yet been established, but soldiers off duty throng the boulevards, suggesting the days of Boulanger excitement. Special trains continue to bring in reinforcements. These are quartered principally in the Champs de Mars, the government tobacco factories and the old dungeon at Vincennes.

Crowds Sunday visited the Champs de Mars to witness the cavalry and infantry drills. Several persons distributing anti-military pamphlets were arrested during the day. The office of the Confederation of Labor was closed but a number of the trades unions met at the labor exchange.

Seven thousand workmen of the municipal gas works reached the important decision not to strike, thus allaying the fears that the city would be without light.

After a meeting of printers Saturday a disturbance between strikers and non-strikers took place, in the course of which a non-striker shot and seriously wounded a striker in the abdomen and another man lost an eye.

Minister of the Interior Clemenceau is positive that the military and police precautions taken will insure quiet. 'The measures we have taken," he said, "will easily insure the maintenance of order throughout every section of the city. Our representatives satisfy us that the day will pass without serious incidents."

A Wrong Idea

Many people have the idea that a modern bath room is a luxury to be enjoyed only by the wealthy, you will be astonished if you take the trouble to call on us how unreasonable such comforts are to be had, now-a-days, we furnish such information cheerfully—Archibald Allison.

—Long Cloth, old prices Garmans
Long Cloth, old prices Garmans
Long Cloth, old prices Garmans
Long Cloth, old prices Garmans

Rare Opportunity for Investment.

Large lot on Spring street running parallel with Armory building on Lamb street to Electric light building, adjoining, and including a tenement housefor four families all rented. Entire property well adapted for manufacturing purposes, or tenement houses. Location also convenient to the new depot of the Central railroad of Pennsylvania. Inquire of Rob't Cole, Agent, Crider's Exchange, Bellefonte, Penna. tf

—Upholstering goods Garmans
Upholstering goods Garmans
Upholstering goods Garmans
Upholstering goods Garmans

—Lawn Grass Seed by the pound and Garden Seed in bulk at the Potter-Hoy Hardwa re Co.

BELLEFONTE WILL AID SAN FRANCISCO SUFFERERS.

Send in Your Contributions Promptly so That the Great Work of Relief May go on.

The manner in which the people of the United States are responding to the call for aid from stricken San Francisco is a beautiful tribute to the sympathetic, great American heart. Bellefonte has made no organized effort as yet, but the time is here now and we call for your contributions. Let them be what they may; large or small. No sum will be too small and the few pennies that some of you might have to give will express the same feeling of willingness to help as the dollars of others.

On Saturday the following telegram was received by the Centre County Banking Co. It explains itself:

PHILADELPHIA, Pa , Apr. 21st,
Centre County Banking Co.,
Bellefonte, Pa.

Will your bank receive subscriptions for San Francisco relief on behalf of the Pennsylvania Branch American National Red Cross, transmitting same to Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, treasurer, 5th and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia. If so please notify your local papers for publication Sunday and Monday morning, after sending list of your subscribers. Publish lists daily in your local papers. Please wire your consent to Joseph A. Stennitz secretary.

The bank promptly wired Philadelphia that it would act as the depository and subscriptions can be made at this office or any of the other newspaper offices or banks in the town, a list will be kept and published daily. Now let Bellefonte take its proper place among the towns that are helping in the relief of the thousands who have lost their all. Send in your names promptly as this work must be done at once.

Centre County B'k'g Co.	$100.00
[illegible]	100.00
Col. W. Fred Reynolds	50.00
Bellefonte Trust Co	25.00
Dr. Thomas R. Hayes	25.00
Mrs. H.T. Kurtz	10.00
Chas. R. Kurtz	5.00
Dr. E. S. Dorworth	5.00
Mrs. N. J. Twitmire	1.00

John Franklin Best.

John Franklin Best, one of the oldest and best known farmers of Walker township, died quite suddenly of paralysis at the home of his son, Frederick. He was aged 77 years, 5 months and one day and was a native of Lehigh county. His wife died a number of years ago, his one son being the sole survivor.

A Pickle-Eating Feline.

Punxsutawney Republican: Did you ever hear of a cat eating pickles? It sounds ridiculous, but nevertheless we know of such a cat and saw it eat three good sized cucumber pickles the other day—and it wasn't because it had to eat them, either. It just seemed to prefer them to meat or bread or anything else than the ordinary cat usually eats. This cat is owned by a family in Lindsey and can be seen devouring a pickle any time he is hungry—and cats are hungry all the time. Was he love sick?

Keep Your Home in Good Repair.

The man who owns a home and keeps it in good shape is a public benefactor. He adds to the attractiveness of the neighborhood and increases the value of his own and his neighbor's property. Every improvement is a contribution to the prosperity of the community and may incite others to make greater improvements, thus becoming an object for good. A home well kept is an educator and many are the lessons it teaches. Are the owners doing this?

—The inter-county meeting of the commissioners of Clinton and Centre counties held Friday at Beech Creek to select a site for a new bridge, resulted in the conclusion to put the new structure where the former one stood. After the meeting the Centre county commissioners, John L. Dunlap, C. A. Weaver and John L. Bailey, and Attorney Gettig went to Lock Haven and made a tour of the public buildings. They were very much pleased with the appearance of the jail and court house and took occasion to compliment the commissioners for the fine condition in which they are at present.

—Local items will be always welcome.

MINERS MUST DECIDE

Mitchell Opens Tri-District Convention at Scranton.

SCALE COMMITTEE FOR STRIKE

Seems No Hope For Peace Unless Mine Workers Back Down—Dr. Charles Neill Confers With Mitchell.

Scranton, Pa., May 3.—That the tri-district convention of the United Mine Workers, which opened in this city, will declare a strike throughout the hard coal field is the opinion here of everyone in touch with the situation. Over 600 delegates are in attendance. It seems that there is no way out of a strike unless the mine workers back down, and the delegates are very far from favoring anything closely approaching a backdown. President John Mitchell established headquarters at the Hotel Schadt. He met with members of the joint scale committee, and presented for their consideration a copy of the committee report which he had been preparing for some days. The meeting was entirely formal, though it lasted for three hours. The report was approved in its entirety.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. Mitchell said that the report contained no recommendations. He said that it would be merely a resume of the negotiations conducted since the mine workers first presented their demands in December last. He said that he would not be present at the convention during the larger part of its deliberations, and intimated that he desired the men to decide for themselves. There is a pronounced belief, however, that he will be obliged to take the floor and express his views.

The members of the joint scale committee are outspoken in favoring a strike. They say that there is no other course left open to the organization now that the operators have given their ultimatum. They report a marked change of sentiment throughout the entire region during the past few days, and particularly since the clash between the state constabulary and the mine workers at Mt. Carmel on Monday. Strike talk is in the air on all sides.

President Mitchell had a mysterious conference here with Dr. Charles P. Neill, of Washington, United States labor commissioner and sliding scale commissioner. Dr. Neill came into town from Philadelphia. He was met at the Jersey Central station by John J. Loftus, a close personal friend of President Mitchell, and was taken to Mr. Loftus' drug store, where he awaited for the appearance of President Mitchell. Mr. Loftus had been notified by Ralph M. Easeley, of New York, over the long distance telephone to meet Dr. Neill, and to keep his presence in the city a secret. Mr. Easeley is the secretary of the civic federation. Dr. Neill would not say what the object of his visit was, except that he came in the interest of peace. He said he had been sent by no one. Asked if he was an envoy of President Roosevelt, he said he had not seen the president for six weeks. Mr. Mitchell said that Dr. Neill's visit was "of no great importance."

Neill Did Not Represent Roosevelt.

Philadelphia, May 3.—Dr. Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor, arrived here on the Black Diamond express of the Lehigh Valley railroad from Scranton, and was somewhat surprised that President Roosevelt's name should be connected with his visit to President Mitchell, of the Miners' Union.

"I did not go to see President Mitchell at the instance of President Roosevelt," Mr. Neill said. "So far as I know the president is not aware of the fact that I was in the anthracite coal regions. I visited Mr. Mitchell at my own initiative."

Commissioner Neill, when pressed for a reason for visiting the miners' chief, declined to have anything further to say for publication.

Prominent Scientist Dead.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 2.—Professor Israel C. Russell, president of the geological department of the University of Michigan, died of pneumonia. Professor Russell was 54 years old and was widely known as a scientist.

Strike Leader Arrested For Arson.

Johnstown, Pa., May 3.—Charles S. Shank, president of the Windber local, United Mine Workers of America, was arrested on a charge of arson by Sheriff J. C. Begley, of Somerset county. Shank, it is alleged in an information made before Justice Davies, of Paint Creek Borough, set fire to a double tenement house on 23d street, Windber, owned by the Berwind-White company. The house was entirely destroyed. The authorities claim they have a strong case against Shank.

A Newspaper You Must Have.

These added features make next Sunday's North American the greatest Sunday newspaper ever offered in this territory.

Fiction Section—First instalment of "A Rock in the Baltic," corking romance by Robert Barr. Printed before book publication. Complete during month of May. First of $150,000 series of twelve novels by great authors. One each month.

Baseball!

color. Contains schedules, records and prospects of national game in big leagues, minor leagues and among the semi professional and amateur clubs. Articles by experts and players. Scores of pictures.

A Baseball Game—To be cut out and mounted. Scientific and practical. For rainy days and evenings at home. When properly mounted it is as good as any 25 cent game that you can buy.

An Art Supplement—A picture of the Athletics. American League. Fine printing. Perfect photographic reproduction. Ready for framing.

Regular big Sunday section and newspaper.

Orders must come early. Demand never equaled.

This will be the biggest and best Sunday issue of a newspaper printed in Philadelphia.

Beezer—Crust,

Wednesday at high noon Harry Crust and Miss Elizabeth Beezer were married by Father McArdle, at St John's Catholic church. They were attended by Miss Catherine Rosenhover, of Bellefonte, and Leonard Raymond, of Drifting, Pa. A fine wedding dinner was served by Mrs. Charles Custaborder. The wedding was attended by only a few of their friends. After a visit to western cities Mr. and Mrs. Cruse will reside at Fillmore.

The Unwelcomed Coming.

Both the thirteen-year and seventeen-year locusts are due to appear this summer. Persons who believe that the weather as well as pestilences and other calamities have some occult connection with the habits of insects, birds and other animals have occasion enough this year to fortify their belief in the malignant influence exerted by the periodical locusts. The thirteen year variety, despite the unlucky number, is not nearly as much of a "hoodoo" as the seventeen-year variety. It is on record that the first appearance of the latter in Plymouth Colony in 1633 was attended by a series of ills. They "did eat up the green things, and made such a constant yelling noise as made all the woods ring of them, and ready to deaf the bearers;" and there came a very hot summer and a plague, which continued until cold weather and carried off many whites and Indians "in and near to Plymouth."

UNCLAIMED LETTER LIST.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte Post Office uncalled for May 1st, 1906:

Mrs. Jane Campbell, Allen Hofman, (2), Myrtle Koons, Fannie Noflinger, Mrs. Frank Scott.

FOREIGN LETTERS.

Jervet Skukanger, Grose Bopolo Michael Horhorozah.

When called for please say advertised
W. W. MONTGOMERY, PM.

Well Spent Money.

Come here and see what ten cents will buy, we have a line of ladies hose, extra quality, fast color, 10 cents. Imperial 5 and 10 cent store, S. A. Donachy.

Just a Word

To the baking member of your family We want you to try Our Best Flour, give it a good, long severe test, and it will prove itself just a little better than the others, its a home product of wonderfully honest qualities, and that is another reason why it deserves your recognition. C Y. Wagner, dealer in all kinds of mill produce.

—One dollar per hundred pounds for old newspapers delivered to the Yeager Swing Co.

A Money Saver

Its no crime to be economical. Its a real virtue, and where its possible to get the same quality and save a few cents that the place to buy, you will find by investing 15 cents that Hazel's Special Coffee, its better than you usually get for a quarter. Suppose you try it. Hazel Bros., Criders Exchange.

—You can buy your lawn seed at the Potter—Hoy Hardware Co.

Jack's Masquerade

John Bristow Jr., rose from his chair and tapped nervously on the library desk John Bristow Sr., had risen first and, as they faced each other, the younger man towered head and shoulders above his father. Except for this and the difference in age, they were very like, and determination had brought the same set look to both faces.

"I am to understand, then, that your father's business is not good enough for you?" said the elder man, coldly.

"It's not that at all, sir; I only feel that I'm not fitted for it."

"So that's what a college education has taught you?" The suggestion of a sneer brought a flush to the young man's cheeks; he opened his lips to reply, but his father went on: "Don't interrupt. You've had your say; let me have mine—or write it. In business—and this is business—I believe in black and white."

As the stern-faced man began to write with characteristically slow precision Jack Bristow shifted his position uneasily. Hitherto he had found his father most indulgent, and always ready to come to his aid when certain undergraduate extravagances and peccadilloes were brought to his attention.

"I suppose wild oats must be sowed, eh, Jack?" he had said on one occasion. "Better now than later, when we get down to business."

The present interview proved that the hour for getting "down to business" had struck. After dinner his father had taken his hope and pride to the library.

"Well, Jack," he began, "you've had your vacation, and it's October. Monday morning you'd better report at the office and begin your lifework."

His son had expected this sooner or later, but anticipated no serious opposition to his own plans for the future. "I am anxious to continue my studies," he told his father, "and to make art my profession."

"Painting pictures?" There was ill-concealed contemptin the question; for dabbling with oils and canvas, while, perhaps, comprehensible as a pastimes, appealed to the matter-of-fact manufacturer as impossible as a business, at least for one of the Bristow blood.

But derision served only to augment what the elder man called "a pigheaded boy's obstinacy," and the sheet of paper which he was now carefully blotting contained the paternal reply to what he had characterized as his son's "tom-fool ultimatum."

Straightening back in his chair, he read aloud what he had written:

"John Bristow, Jr.,

"Dear Sir:—You are instructed to report for duty at the New York office of the Bristow Machine Company Monday, the 18th inst. at a salary of $1,200 per annum. If you decline this appointment, kindly consider yourself at liberty to make such arrangements as you see fit for your future, for after above date you must make your home elsewhere, and need expect no aid from me.

"Very truly,
"John Bristow."

Jack took the sheet of paper mechanically and went to his room. A half-hour later he left the house. Having taken his father at his word, as he knew that he must be taken, he decided to cease his dependence immediately.

He meant to play the game fairly. The suit of clothes on his back was indispensible. His watch and ring he could retain; they were gifts from his mother.

"If she were living this would not have happened," he sadly thought, as he walked to the railroad station. It was from his mother he derived his artistic tastes, and she would have sympathized with his ambition.

The few dollars in his pocket and his account at the bank he did not scruple to use, for the sum was less than the prizes he had won at the university. He had packed his canvass to be sent to his new home—when he found one. Hitherto the works of his brush had been used as gifts; now they must earn him a livelihood. Many of them bore a beautiful girl's face that he looked at wistfully. He would prove that the art his father despised was valuable, even in dollars and cents.

A fortnight in New York taught him many things, one was that pictures, except by artists of repute, are a drug on the market.

"It's true that to succeed I should appear prosperous," he soliloquized, one afternoon in the second month of his exile, "but I must eat and sleep, and after to-night's extravagance—well, there'll be precious little left for either."

He did not regret the extravagance, because a young lady had accepted his invitation, although a theatre box party, preceded by a dinner and followed by carriages to convey his guests to the train for the Hudson River town that was once his home was certainly sheer recklessness. Such courtesies were natural enough from the son of a millionaire, however, and Jack's silence on the subject of his disagreement with his father had been absolute.

After the performance the division of his party left Helen and Tom Dayne with Jack for the second carriage. The young lady had hardly seated herself, when her brother suddenly uttered an exclamation of dismay.

"By George!" he cried, "I promised to leave a note for father at the Walsingham I'll cut through this street and take a cab to the station."

Without waiting for a reply, the young man disappeared. Jack entered the carriage and closed the door, and, for the first time since childhood he was en tete-a-tete with Helen Dayne. This time it was as man and woman, That he was interested in the young lady had long been clear to him. As he sank back on the cushions beside her a sudden wave of feeling swept over him, and he realized that she had been the inspiration of his brush, that she was the ideal of his young manhood.

"I love you Helen," trembled on his lips, but he fought the words back. He must make a place in the world for himself before he spoke them. The brightness of the maiden's eyes and the flush that tinged her cheeks might have given Jack hope enough to make him bold; but he did not see them in the gloom as the carriage rattled along.

The young lady's casual inquiry about his father suggested a topic which would keep the conversation from taking a dangerous turn. "Besides," he thought, "it is right that she should know—now."

Speaking hurridly, the station was only a block or two away—he told her of the disagreement with his father, and referred lightly to his own struggle with the world. His companion said little, but when he helped her from the carriage he fancied that he saw a suspicious glistening in her soft eyes. Twice she tried to say something more pointed—but the words died and simply whispered in sympathetic voice: "I'm so sorry, Jack," as he assisted her to alight, and they entered the great Forty-second Street Depot.

"Hullo!" cried a voice behind them. "So you're in it, too?" and Tom Dayne, red of face and out of breath, came up. "Train's gone, I suppose you know?"

"Gone?" echoed Bristow. "Why it's only."

"I know," broke in Dayne. "Ought to go in three minutes, but schedule's changed, and it starts fifteen minutes earlier."

"We can stay at Cousin Ella's suggested Helen.

"That part's all right!" growled her brother, "but the mater'll worry—sit up all night, probably."

"Better wire," advised Jack.

Tom surveyed him scornfully. "You've grown so metropolitan you forget that in villages telegraph offices don't deliver messages after seven P. M. And our 'phon's out of gear, worse luck!"

Bristow noted anxiety in Helen's face. "Wait for me," he said. "Perhaps I——," and without completing his sentence he hurried off.

Ten minutes later he returned, smiling. "It's all right. I've arranged a special. It'll be ready on track twelve soon."

"No! No!" whispered the girl.

"You can't stop me now. It's already paid for!" answered her host, resolutely.

"That's the luck of having a future millionaire and good fellow for a friend!" cried Tom, as he and his sister were soon after conducted to and installed in an empty passenger car.

Helen did not reply, and was unusually silent during the short railroad journey. She knew what this generous impulse cost Jack Bristow, and she was sorry that he had yielded to it. It touched her to feel that he had made the sacrifice for her.

'Perhaps I can repay him," she mused, and her next thought was of the lonely father at the Bristow place, half a mile from her own home.

As Jack left the young lady of his heart at the depot he had mused, disconcertedly; "Special trains are expensive luxuries for poor artists. I must retrench, so I'll walk home." He laughed a miserable yellow laugh as the absurdity of paying seventy-five dollars for a special train and walking twenty squares to save five cents came home to him.

"With everything paid!" he sighed, as he completed his figuring that night, "I shall have about seven dollars. I must get cheaper quarters and then find work, if it's street cleaning."

Finding cheaper lodgings was easy if not pleasant; finding work was a different matter. Young Bristow had a knack in black and white, and, armed with some sketches, he tramped to the office of many publications; but sketching might as well have been one of the lost arts.

"If I don't find something to-morrow," he exclaimed after one of his nightly summings up of the situation, "It's the pawnshop or hunger."

Friends who would gladly loan him money were numerous, but borrowing was almost as humiliating to his pride as seeking aid from his father. That night an idea came to him; as art was a failure, he would see what nonsese would do.

The following morning, he walked up Sixth Avenue until he found a big clothing store whose advertising methods, judging by the window placards, were sensational; he entered and asked for the manager.

"I have an advertising scheme," he said briskly. "I can make comic pictures on a blackboard and keep a crowd before a window if——"

"Played out long ago," interposed the manager. "We want advertising to bring the store name before the people who don't pass it."

Jack turned away in silence; he knew by past experience that argument was useless.

"If you were only a bicycle rider, now," suggested the manager.

Jack stopped and faced about. "I am," he said. "What of it?"

"I mean a fellow that does funny stunts on a wheel," explained the clothing man.

"Well, what is there in it for such a man?" demanded Jack.

"We paid Janowith forty dollars—but but he was a circus chap. Great rider when he was sober."

"What were his tricks?" Jack queried, and the manager described those that he remembered.

Several weeks before, Bristow had seen an athletic fellow dressed as a countryman pedalling a dilapidated wheel through the streets, and stopped now and then to give an exhibition of trick riding in which a satchel bearing and advertising placard had been conspicuous. He had wondered at the time, he recalled, why anyone was willing to pay for such advertising; it seemed that they not only paid, but paid well.

"I can do those tricks and others," he said, as the manager ended his catalogue. "Will you give me forty dollars a week if I can satisfy you?"

The reply was in the affirmative and it was agreed that Jack should begin the following morning.

"Like to try the wheel?" asked the manager. "There's room in the basement. Janowith used to practice there."

The company furnished the bicycle, then. That was fortunate, thought Jack, the change in his pocket would scarcely provide one. He spent the next hour trying the tricks of earlier days. Nevertheless he felt the difference, and by evening, he dressed himself and journey to a dinner party at thich he met Helen Dayne, he had almost convinced himself that the proposed method of money-making was little short of disreputable.

"I think" answered Miss Helen, as he ended with a question, "that it is not so much what we do as the motive in doing it."

Had he heard the girl's injunction to her brother later that evening. Jack would have been perhaps dismayed but certainly made happy.

"I want you to do something for me Tom," she said. "Mr. Bristow's being forced into something that—that's not nice. I want you find out what it is."

Jack had little fear of being identified, even if some friend should see him performing for the glory of "Strazonmeyer 'Pon Honor Clothes for Men." The white face of a clown, which he had substituted for the "rube" make-up of his predecessor, would be an effectual disguise.

"It's a masquerade the sharpest eye cannot pierce," he told himself.

When Bristow came from his lodgings a morning or two later he was followed by a sharp-eyed street arab, who two hours later returned to the cafe where he had left Tom Dayne.

"Well, did you find out anything?" asked that young man.

"Sure t'ing, boss. The guy went inter Straz'meyer's clothin' store on Sixt' Av'noo, an' when he comes out he wuz a reg-lar circus bloke."

"What's Jack up to?" he asked his sister, after telling his story. "Is it a bet?"

Saturday morning added a new burden to Jack Bristow's staggering pride.

"There's to be a special sale of gents' furnishings today," the manager informed him, "and I've tied a bag of circulars to your handle-bars. After you've gathered a crowd just pass 'em out."

A thought of abrupt resignation was followed by one of his landlady, and Jack swallowed his vexation. Ten minutes later a dextrously managed fall, several comic attempts to mount, and a crowd had collected, he began to distribute the circulars.

"That'll do fur yez," came a voice from the sidewalk. G'wan out o' this now, Oi guess Oi'll run yez in anyway."

As his feet touched the pedals another voice, that struck him as familiar, said: "I wouldn't do that, Mr. Officer. It's only a joke. College man, you know." Jack saw his father slip something that looked like a banknote into the policeman's hand. The next minute he was seated in a carriage with Helen Dayne and his father, who was laughing immoderately.

"Well, young man have you had enough of going alone?" said the old gentleman.

"Father, you are always right," said Jack, ardently. When he was alone with the girl the clown kissed her.

Stationary That Vanishes,

The newest thing in paper is the disappearing kind. Soused in diluted sulphuric acid and then carefully glazed, it looks the paper that abideth; but slowly the acid nibbles at the fibres under the glazing, till in a week or so the substance has gone out of it, and the place thereof knows it no more. A most convenient sort of paper—when you're the one to use it.

You can now write promissory notes without a shudder. You can flirt by mail with perfect compose. You can even sign the pledge if you like.—Boston Transcript.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right
At all Drug Store

No woman can look beautiful without good health. A woman's good health depends on those organs peculiarly feminine, and which so often become disordered, causing misery and dragging-down pain. Nature's laws are perfect, health endures if you obey them, but disease follows disobedience. The distressing complaints of women are often brought about by catching cold at a critical period, breathing foul indoors' air and long hours of work and nervous tension. Go straight to Nature for the cure—to the forest. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is Nature's cure for the distressing complaints of women. Prof. King, M. D., in his American Dispensatory, says of Black Cohosh or Black Snake-root—"our early American Indians set a high value on this root in diseases of women. It is surpassed by no other drug, in congestive conditions of the parts where there are dragging pains and tenderness."

Lady's Slipper root is a "nerve stimulant and tonic, improving both circulation and nutrition of the nerve centers—favoring sleep and cheerful condition of the mind; of service in mental depression, nervous headache, irregularities of women with despondency."—Prof. King. Besides the above ingredients there are—Golden Seal, Unicorn and Blue Cohosh roots in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Over 1000 pages and illustrated. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

—Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, and will not constipate like nearly all other cough medicines. Refuse substitutes. For sale by C. M. Farrish.

CENTRAL STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.
LOCK HAVEN, - - - - PENN'A
J. R. FLICKINGER. Prin.

The Fall Term begins September 11th. The facilities at this important school for doing first class work professional and academic were never better than now. Its graduates are required to do a full year's teaching in the training school. Its faculty has the best American and European training. Buildings modern. College Preparatory department. Location unexcelled. Fine Gymnasium. Expenses moderate. Free tuition to prospective teachers.

Address for illustrated catalog,
The Principal.

Watch, Clock, Jewelry and Optical, Repairing.
O———O
Moderate in Prices.
High in quality and reliability. Repairs may be left at Henry Brown's or at residence, 109 Logan Street. 23 years experience in Centre County.
All Repairing Guaranteed.
J. D. Brown.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
stops the cough and heals lungs

For a clear complexion
ORINO
Laxative Fruit Syrup
Pleasant to take
ORINO cleanses the system, and makes sallow blotched complexions smooth and clear. Cures chronic constipation by gently stimulating the stomach, liver and bowels. Refuse substitutes.
C. M. Parrish.

•FOR SALE.•
Pure Bred Buff Leghorns, and Eggs for Hatching.
B. C. Dottrer
R. F. D. Mill Hall

S. E. GOSS.
Successor to John C.
Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.
Represents Some of the Best Stock Companies.
2nd floor Bush Arcade
Bellefonte,

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT
the standard cough and cold cure for over 75 years now comes also in a Convenient to carry with you. Don't be without it. Ask your druggist.
1906 ALMANAC FREE. Write to Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia.
25c size

Sign the Coupon Below at Once and MADAME
WILL BE MAILED TO YOU EACH MONTH FOR
..One Year Absolutely Free..

"MADAME"

Is the latest success in the magazine field having already reached front rank.
The three million members of the National Council of Women unanimously endorsed it as their official organ, an honor never before conferred on any magazine.
Full of interesting stories and beautiful stories "MADAME" brings a monthly message of culture into a quarter of a million of American homes and reflects the mental development of the last decade as no other woman's magazine attempts to do.

SOME OF MADAME'S CONTRIBUTORS.

Lady Henry Somerse, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Bishop Potter,
The Marquis de Castellane, Mr. John C. Black, Mrs. Maud M. Miller, Mrs. Burton Harrison, Capt. Richmond D. Hobson, Jean Cowgill.
Mrs. Mary Wright Sewell, Camille Manclair, Jessie Ackerman, George Horton, Edmond Russell, Countess Karolewitz.

The Bellefonte Republican

needs no describing. It is one of the best papers in Centre county. Its editorial force is large and capable and completely covers the news of the day. Other subjects of interest are managed by writers especially fitted for the work in their respective fields.

THIS UNIQUE COMBINATION OFFER is made at a great expense to The Republican ever ready to secure the best possible for its readers.

If you appreciate clean and honest journalism, both in your weekly newspaper and the magazine you take into your home, you should appreciate this offer.

Just Fill out this Coupon PLAINLY and Direct to The Bellefonte Republican.

Town.....State.....

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN,
Bellefonte, Pa.

Date.....190..

Please send The Bellefonte Republican to me for one year for which I agree to pay $1.00 a year in advance with the understanding that I am to receive a copy of "Madame" a Monthly Magazine for one year absolutely free.

Are you a new or old Subscriber..... Name.....

Commence Delivery..... Address.....

THIS OFFER MAY BE WITHDRAWN AT ANY TIME. SO ACT AT ONCE.

INSIDE STORY OF A FIGHT

American Blue Jackets Had Close Call At San Domingo.

FLIGHT OF MORALES.

Jiminista's Army Had Defied the Republic's President in the Master.

WOULD HAVE STOPPED LANDING.

Washington, D. C., April 27.—The inside history of the flight of the former president of Santo Domingo, Carlos F. Morales, and his minister of foreign affairs, Sanchez, has leaked out in Washington. Connected with the downfall of Morales is the story of an attempted coup d'etat which all but resulted in 800 American bluejackets being cut to piece by the cannon of the Moro and other fortifications of Santo Domingo City, which the Jiminista army, in defiance of President Morales, had loaded with slugs and grapeshot to prevent the landing of the sailors

This was the so called Scorpion affair. At the time of the incident official reports mentioned only a landing party from the little gunboat Scorpion for the purpose of exercising the men. As a matter of fact all the available men from Rear Admiral Bradford's ships, then off the city, were sent into the harbor in small boats, carrying small arms and landing guns, and because the bigger vessels could not go close in, the party used the little Scorpion as a base. Rear Admiral Bradford undertook the perilous job after a conference with United States Minister Dawson.

A conversation between Mr. Dawson and the then foreign minister, Sanchez, is a partiof the story, This conversation, a day or two before the attempted landing, convinced Mr. Dawson that President Morales and Sanchex, both being Horiacistas, and the only members of that party even figuratively in the government of Santo Domingo, could maintain their prestiga no longer until the strength of the Jiministas was dissipated by armed domination of the city.

Mr. Sanchez is reported to have convinced Mr. Dawson that only by bolstering up Morales, routing the Jiministas and making the government of the country Horacista in fact as well as in name, could the pending treaty be saved.

Mr. Dawson, in turn, convinced Rear Admiral Bradford that the landing of a great force of bluejackets was essential.

The landing was hurriedly arranged. On the day selected for the coup every man that could be spared from the ships was started ashore, a swarm of small boats carrying the party.

Tremendous excitement immediately broke loose in Santo Domingo City. President Morales and Foreign Minister Sanchez were in danger of their lives, the report spreading like wildfire that they had betrayed their country to the Americans. The Jiminista minister of war quickly manned the old Moro, built in Christopher Columbus' time, and the other harbor worke, loaded the guns and ran them through the embrasures.

When the American small boat flotilla passed inside the Scorpion it faced an array of cannon that truly frowned. The Jiminista party in the meantime had gotten word to Rear Admiral Bradford that if a landing was attempted the forts would fire and cut the landing party to piecee.

Rear Admiral Bradford forwith flew the following signal to his fleet: "If the forts fire, engage and silence them.

The American ships were cleared for action and men who saw the affair say that American ships were nearer real fighting at that moment than at any other time since 1898.

Rear Admiral Bradford, however, soon perceiving that the attempt could be successful only with great loss of life, owing to the unexpected preparedness of the Jiministas, signaled the landing party to lay to. Negotiations were opened with the forts and it was agreed that the sailors would be recalled if the Dominicans would leave the forts and cease to menace the small boats. This agreement was carried out and the landing party returned to the ships.

The incident proved Morales' downfall. A dozen would-be assassins were searching the city for the supposedly traitorous president, while a rabble threatened the palace. Mr. Ales was found later in the interior with a broken leg, and under immunity obtained for him by the American naval officers, was permitted to leave the country. He and Sanchez, who also escaped on condition of exile, are in Porto Rico.

The Jiministas were all but estranged by the landing incident. Particularly were they angry at Rear Admiral Bradford, whom they considered a potential invader of their country. This, it is said, led to the department of state requesting the navy department to turn the Dominican naval command over to some other officer. Bradford soon received orderc to sail with his flagship, the Olympia, and Commander Sutherland is now in charge of the American ships in Dominican waters.

An Echo From Bethlehem.

There is no place in America where Easter-tide is more strictly observed than it is by the Moravian Christians in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. It is a rare privilege for any disolple of the Lord Jesus to be in attendance upon the services there during the eight days of that solemn, but joyous occasion. With the reading of the Gospel story, selections concerning the crucifixion and resurrection, praising the Lord in "hymns and spiritual songs" was the most important part of every daily service.

At the sacrament of the Lord's supper on Maunday Thursday, there were more than fifteen hundred communicants and an accession of thirty four confirmands. The first service on Easter Sunday was held at five o'clock in the morning. At that early hour, in a pouring rain, there were hundreds of devout worshippers present. Every thing was done with no apparent effort on the part of any participating in the services. That there is, on every hand, an appearance of thrift, peace and happiness enjoyed by these Moravian Christians should occasion no surprise.

There is seen among them a very manifest consecration of self to the Lord Jesus Christ; a happy realization of the promised blessing in obedience to the command, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

R. C.

Nothing will relieve indigestion that is not a thorough digestan, Kopol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, and allows the stomach to rest—recuperate and grow strong again. A few doses of Kodol after meals will soon restore the stomach and digestive organs to a full performance of their functions naturally. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

PILES A cure guaranteed if you use RUDY'S PILE Suppository

D. Matt. Thompson, Supt. Graded Schools, Statesville, N. C., writes: "I can say they do all you claim for them." Dr. S. M. Devore, Raven Rock, W. Va., writes: "They give universal satisfaction." Dr. H. D. McGill, Clarksburg, Tenn., writes: "In a practice of 23 years, I have found no remedy to equal yours." Price, 50 Cents. Samples Free. Sold by Druggists. MARTIN RUDY, LANCASTER, PA.

Sold in Bellefonte by C. M. Parrish

—Croup, coughs, colds, whooping-cough etc., have no terrors for children or adults who evacuate the bowels with Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy expels all cold from the system and strengthens the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. The Original Laxative Cough Syrup and Liquid Cold Cure. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—For plumbing and engine supplies as pipe of all kinds, call on A. E. Schad.
D-1mo

REVIVO RESTORES VITALITY

Made a Well Man of Me.

THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY

produces the above results in 30 days. It acts powerfully and quickly. Cures when all others fail. Young men will regain their lost manhood, and old men will recover their youthful vigor by using REVIVO. It quickly and surely restores Nervousness, Lost Vitality, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Lost Power, Failing Memory, Wasting Diseases, and all effects of self-abuse or excess and indiscretion, which unfits one for study, business or marriage. It not only cures by starting at the seat of disease, but is a great nerve tonic and blood builder, bringing back the pink glow to pale cheeks and restoring the fire of youth. It wards off Insanity and Consumption. Insist on having REVIVO, no other. It can be carried in vest pocket. By mail $1.00 per package, or six for $5.00, with a positive written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Book and advise free. Address

Royal Medicine Co. 269 Dearborn St. CHICAGO, ILL.

C. M. Parrish.

GOOD for OLD and YOUNG

August Flower keeps the children healthy and strong—
Full of vigor and frolic the whole day long,
So when Mamma needs more they rush off in high glee,
And shout to the druggist: "Please give it to me!"

¶Inability to get up brisk and fresh in the morning, lack of appetite, pallor muddy complexion and poor spirits—these all indicate a disordered stomach and bad digestion—in adults and children too. They also indicate the urgent need of taking Green's August Flower regularly for a few days.

¶It's a reliable old remedy for all stomach troubles, never fails to cure indigestion, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and is a natural tonic for body and mind.

¶Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Pale, Thin, Nervous?

Then your blood must be in a very bad condition. You certainly know what to take, then take it—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If you doubt, then consult your doctor. We know what he will say about this grand old family medicine. Sold for over 60 years.

This is the first question your doctor would ask: "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that daily action of the bowels is absolutely essential to recovery. Keep your liver active and your bowels regular by taking laxative doses of Ayer's Pills.

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of Ayer's HAIR VIGOR. AGUE CURE. CHERRY PECTORAL.

Odd Graveyard Inscriptions.

At Worcester, England, the slab erected over a departed autioneer is inscribed with a single word, "Gone." In Sussex the initials and date of the death of the deceased are followed by two words, "He was." The most remarkable inscription is at Cane Hill cemetery, Belfast, where the inscription says, "Left till called for."

For the Hands.

A mixture of honey, lemon juice and eau de cologne is exceedingly useful to whiten the hands when discolored by sun, wind or work and may be kept mixed for the purpose in a small toilet jar. Take a wineglassful of each ingredient and mix well; then pour into the jar and keep closely corked. This may be applied night or day and the inside of the fingers rubbed with pumice stone. When the hands are of good color, but the skin lacks softness, glycerin is useful, but it has no effect on the color. The hands may be, however, greatly improved in texture if after the nightly wash they are well coated with glycerin and dipped into oatmeal or well powdered with the same.

What Good Husbands Like.

Among the things which a good father and husband likes is a well ordered home. He likes it to be clean and neat without being stiff and formal. He likes freedom in his home. He must be made to feel that no part of it is too good for him and that he is of more account in his house than "company."

The best of husbands may be undemonstrative, but this must in nowise hinder your telling him he is a good husband and father, and no one more than he likes a little affection shown him quietly where no one sees it. Make the home a cheerful spot, and to maintain the atmosphere of cheerfulness his meals must be prepared to his taste and in time, says Woman's Life. He will not look careworn if he enjoys the knowledge that economy and good sense are used in keeping up the establishment and that his income will cover his expenses and a little laid aside for the rainy day that may come.

Trying to Abolish Flies.

A prize of $2,000 has been awarded by the Paris Matin to the anonymous inventor of a new method of getting rid of house flies. The method is strictly scientific and, it is claimed, will completely destroy the eggs, which are usually deposited in drain pipes. Crude petrol mixed with water is used.

The Bright Spots.

No man knows his strength or his weakness till occasion proves them. If there be some thoughts and actions of his life from the memory of which a man shrinks with shame, surely there are some which he may be proud to own and remember—forgiven injuries, conquered temptations (now and then) and difficulties vanquished by endurance.

The Word "Expire."

"Expire" in its literal sense is breathing out. Inspiration and expiration together constitute respiration. Izaak Walton observed that "if the inspiring or expiring organ of any animal be stopt it suddenly dies." The Romans spoke of "breathing out" the breath of life instead of "dying," by way of euphemism, just as they said "Vixit" (he has lived) instead of "he is dead." In all languages the reluctance frankly to say "dead" or "die" appears; hence such words and phrases as "pass away," "decease," "demise," "the departed," "defunct," "the late," "no more," "if anything should happen to me."

The Way of It.

The Missus—Mary Ann, please explain to me how it is that I saw you kissing a young man in the kitchen last night. The Maid—Sure, I dunno how it is, ma'am, onless yez were lookin' through the keyhole.—Cleveland Leader.

The Woman of It.

Mother (impatiently)—You have been very naughty today, Juanita. I shall have to tell your father when he comes home. Juanita (aged seven)—That's the woman of it! You never can keep anything to yourself!

The Determining Factor.

Helen—Sometimes I like waltzing and sometimes I do not. Ethel—It depends on your mood? Helen—It depends on my partner.—New York Press.

Of all persecutions, that of calumny is the most intolerable.—Hazlitt.

—The forty hour devotion opens next Sunday in St. John's Catholic church.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Instructor at Harvard Accused of Poisoning His Wife.

ARSENIC FOUND IN STOMACH

Mrs. Muenter Died Shortly After Birth of Child—Husband Took Body to Chicago and Then Disappeared From Sight.

Cambridge, Mass., April 28.—The Cambridge police issued a warrant for the arrest of Erich Muenter, an instructor in German at Harvard University, on a charge of murdering his wife in this city about two weeks ago. It is alleged that Mrs. Muenter's death was caused by arsenic. The body was taken to Chicago on April 17.

Muenter was born in Germany. He formerly taught school in Chicago, and before coming to Harvard, less than two years ago, he was an instructor at the University of Kansas in Lawrence, Kan.

Mrs. Muenter was formerly Miss Leone K. Kremds, of Chicago.

The attention of the authorities was called to the case just after the death of the woman, April 16. Ten days before that time a child was born to Mrs. Muenter, who was attended by a faith cure doctor and by two nurses of the same cult. Some time after the child was born two regular physicians, Drs. Frederick W. Taylor and Herbert McIntyré, were called. Both decided that Mrs. Muenter was suffering from some ailment of the stomach. They prescribed for her, but later, it is alleged, withdrew because they ascertained that their directions were not being followed. Mrs. Muenter died on April 16.

Muenter applied to Dr. McIntyre for his signature to the certificate of death, but Dr. McIntyre decided that the case needed investigation and notified the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy and sent the stomach to Professor W. F. Whitney, of the Harvard Medical School. Muenter and the two nurses were then permitted to take the body to Mrs. Muenter's former home in Chicago.

A report of the analysis of the stomach was received by Medical Examiner Swan. Professor Whitney reported that he had found marked traces of arsenic, and the district attorney notified the Cambridge police. A warrant for Muenter, charging him with the murder of his wife, was issued, and the Chicago police have been notified to hold the man if he can be found. Arrangements are being made to send out circulars containing a complete description of him.

The authorities are investigating Muenter's history, and it is probable that the Chicago police and the Lawrence, Kan., authorities will be asked to assist them.

The Harvard University authorities stated that Muenter was appointed instructor in German nearly two years ago, while he was stationed at the University of ansas. He at no time had acted as professor at Harvard, but received his appointment as instructor temporarily, that is from year to year. He was serving his second year here. He has not resigned. Since his departure, April 17, his whereabouts has not been positively known here.

Woman Acquitted of Murder.

Atlanta, Ga., April 28.—Mrs. E. M. Standifer was acquitted of the charge of the murder of her sister, Miss Chapelle Whizenant, on March 9 last. Mrs. Standifer entered a plea of not guilty, and while admitting the killing, her counsel declared that emotional insanity impelled her to do the deed. Mrs. Standifer shot and killed her sister nearly two months ago an account of the marked attentions of her husband to the dead woman. Her suspicions had been confirmed by the discovery of letters that had passed between the two. Asking her sister to discontinue encouraging Mr. Standifer and being refused any promise of reform, she fired a bullet, which brought almost instant death.

Reading's March Statement.

Philadelphia, April 28—The monthly statement of the Reading company, giving the operations of the Philadelphia & Reading railway and the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company for March shows the following result: Railway company—Receipts for March, $3,679,953; increase compared with last year, $277,700; net earnings, $1,413,703; decrease, $185,053. Coal company—Receipts for March, $3,059,713; increase compared with March last year, $1,130,895; net earnings, $225,973; increase, $32,516.

Death of Carlton Shafer.

Laporte, Ind., April 28.—Carlton Shafer, captain of a cadet company from Virginia Military Institute that served under General Breckenridge in the Confederate army during the Civil War, died in Laporte, aged 62 years. After the war Captain Shafer served in the Maryland legislature and as professor of mathematics at Frederick, Md., College. During the last years of his life he practiced law in Laporte, being a partner of Major W. B. Biddle, who served with distinction in the Union army.

Too Much Heart.

"And you rejected him?"

"I did."

"He has the reputation of being large hearted man."

"That's the trouble with him. He too large hearted. He can love half dozen women at the same time."

SOURCES OF MEDICINES.

What Various Drugs Look Like In Their Crude State.

Upon going into a pharmacy and looking over the mysterious jars and bottles and boxes that line the shelves did you ever wonder where on earth all of the drugs came from and how they appeared before they were ground up and made into oils or dried or pulverized or crystallized into queer shaped lumps? Each jar and box seems to hide some secret which you immediately become curious to solve. How many different lands do they represent? And after they leave the jars that hold them now what are they made into?

Who, for example, would connect a great pile of dry, thin twigs neatly tied into small bundles with sarsaparilla? These twigs are the creeping roots and rootlets of a prickly shrub that grows in Jamaica, and they are worth from 10 cents to 50 cents a pound.

Somewhat similar in appearance is ipecacuanha, which also comes to us in dry twigs, which are part of the trailing root of a plant found in the damp forests of Brazil.

These roots receive no preparation save drying before they are shipped off to the United States. They are packed in large sacks, and the workmen who open the bales must beware of breathing the pungent, irritating dust given off and which is productive of unpleasant results if incautiously inhaled.

Castor oil, too, is hard to recognize in the pretty little brown beans spotted with black and with polished skins that arrive in bags from India. They look far too attractive to suggest the much hated dose of our early days.

Aloes, the base of many [illegible] may be seen in [illegible] a solid mass [illegible] sealing wax, packed [illegible] boxes, from which [illegible] pieces with a chisel and [illegible] mer.

It is of different qualities and prices, according to whether it comes from Arabia, Socotra or the West Indies, and may bring any sum from $4 to $45 per hundredweight. Aloes is the juice of the big fleshy leaves of the plant of that name. This juice is pressed or evaporated from the leaves and poured into chests or kegs in a semi-fluid state, hardening presently into a solid block. Not infrequently it is inclosed in the dry skins of monkeys and in this strange form brought to market.

One of the most interesting of drugs is opium, both on account of its awful potency and by reason of its great value. A case of opium, about 225 pounds, is worth $400, roughly. The case is of rough deal, lined with tin, and contains a number of soft, dark lumps, like large handfuls of dough, packed very closely together in a quantity of dry, chaffy seeds.

The opium which reaches America is of two qualities, one for medicine, the other for smoking, and comes from Persia and Asia Minor, China and India.

Another costly and all important drug is quinine, which arrives in its crude form as large slices of bark, packed either flat or in "quills"—that is, curled round upon itself like a roll. —Philadelphia North American.

Bath Bags.

Bath bags are rather an expensive luxury if bought at the store. They may be made at home, however, at small cost. Bags of cheesecloth are the best. These should be made about three or four inches square and filled with the following mixture (not too much should be put into each bag): Two and a half pounds of oatmeal, one-half pound of almond meal, one-half pound of powdered orris root and one-quarter pound of castile soap which has first been scraped to a fine powder.

Bath Buns.

Rub with the hand one pound of fine flour and half a pound of butter; then beat six eggs and add them to the flour, with a tablespoonful of good yeast. Mix these together with half a teacupful of milk and set the result in a warm place for an hour. Now mix in six ounces of sifted sugar and mold the dough into buns. Bake them in a hot oven for about ten minutes. These quantities should make eighteen buns.

Velvet and Velveteen.

Imitations of velvet are now so cleverly made that it is sometimes hard to distinguish between the real and velveteen. When the two qualities are placed side by side there is an unmistakable difference, for the rich, glossy, silk-like surface of real velvets fairly glisten beside the dull velveteens that absord all the light. The back threads in velvet are silk, while in velveteen they are cotton.

Fleshmaking Food.

Cream gruel, according to an eminent English authority, is the ideal nourishment for thin folk. A teacupful taken at night immediately before retiring is said to give marvelous results. To be at its best it must be perfectly made, then thinned with sweet cream. Taken in that condition and warm, it is agreeable as well as fattening and produces just that sense of satisfied hunger essential to ideal rest. It is claimed that perseverance in the treatment yields such apparent results that the cheeks can be seen to expand from day to day.

He that falls into sin is a man; he that grieves at it is a saint; that boasteth of it is a devil.—Fuller.

Its He

You find The Nati[illegible]ar stand, which means quality at [illegible]able cost to all smokers, to prove [illegible] the Black and White, or the Cuba Roma for a nickle. Green's Pharmacy Co.

FIRST CARRIAGE IN MAINE.

How a Minister Came to Buy It and Why He Sold It.

The Rev. Francis Winter was a native of Boston and a graduate of Harvard college. He went to Bath early in 1767 and, after preaching on probation for the orthodox church, was invited to settle, which invitation he accepted. He was ordained in the autumn of the same year. He went to Bath on horseback in company with Lemuel Standish. Mr. Winter came from Boston, where he had associated with such eminent men as Adams, Otis and Warren, himself becoming an ardent patriot, taking the lead in the Revolutionary measures adopted in Bath during that memorable period.

Mr. Winter married Miss Abigail Alden in 1768, and it is through her that the Winters of today trace their ancestry back to the "Puritan Maiden of Plymouth."

Three years after the marriage of the Rev. Francis Winter and Abigail Alden they started to visit a sister of Mrs. Winter living in Connecticut and intended to ride all the way on horseback, but Mrs. Winter became so fatigued that Mr. Winter sold one of the horses for a carriage and harness. It was the first carriage that ever came into Maine and was called a chaise. Traveling was so difficult that two negroes were employed to accompany them with shovels and axes to clear the road. Several times the chaise had to be taken apart and lifted over fallen trees. The minister's parishioners thought that it was putting on too much style for their pastor to ride in a carriage, a consequence Mr. Winter sold [illegible] n 1771. It was a two wi[illegible] the body resting on le[illegible]n were attached to wo[illegible] Lewiston Journal.

A [illegible] EFFECT.

Old Time Illumination With Lanterns and Candles.

In these days of electric lights, with all their capabilities for brilliant illumination, it is amusing to read what the subjects of George II. considered a dazzling effect. A Frenchman visiting in London at the time of the coronation of that monarch in 1727 writes enthusiastically in praise of the lighting of the city as well as of a banquet display.

"Most of the streets," writes M. Saussure, "are wonderfully well lighted. In front of each house hangs a lantern, or large globe of glass, inside of which is placed a lamp which burns all night. Large houses have two of these suspended outside the doors by iron supports. Some even have four."

How one arc light would have dazzled the good people of that day!

"When the coronation procession entered Westminster hall," the writer continues, "the light of day was beginning to fade. Forty chandeliers, in shape like a crown, hung from the ceiling, each having thirty-six wax candles.

"On the king's appearance all suddenly lighted, and every one in the room was filled with astonishment at the wonderful and unexpected illumination. Little cords of cotton wool, imperceptible to the eye, saturated with sulphur of saltpeter, spirits of wine and other ingredients, had been prepared and arranged so as to carry the flame rapidly from one candle to another. The arrangement had been so skillfully prepared that scarcely a candle failed to take fire."

For Dosing Oneself.

A physician recommends rochelle salts for amateur doctoring. He says that it is an excellent thing, several times a day, to take as much of the salts as may be put on a cent in a little water. That will sweeten the stomach and act as a very desirable spring medicine. He also speaks highly of soda, having no patience with those timid people who have an idea that it is a dangerous dose, doing some vague harm to the coating of the intestines.

"Why, everything we eat, almost, has soda in it," he cried in disdain. "It is an admirable thing to take half rochelle salts and half bicarbonate of soda, as directed, several times a day. I know of few gentler and still more beneficent general medicines."

Hot and Cold Crystals.

Whether we watch with the microscope a tiny crystal growing from a drop of solution or contemplate with the imagination the stages by which the fiery lavas of past geological periods sank to rest and crystallized, said Professor H. A. Miers in an address before the geological section of the British association at Cape Town, we view the same process. It is the transformation of liquid into crystal—not necessarily into a solid, for research shows there is no dividing line between liquid and solid. A plastic solid body may flow; a solid glass is only a super-cooled liquid. The real primary distinction is between crystalline and noncrystalline material. There are two great liquid reservoirs from which materials have crystallized—the sea with its dissolved salts and the subterranean baths of molten glass fr[illegible] which the igneous rocks have been derived.—New York Globe.

Rhodesia's Largest Nugget.

Weighing 21.62 ounces, a gold nugg[illegible] which me[illegible] five and a half inch[illegible] in len[illegible] three inches in wid[illegible] wa[illegible] nd near Bulawayo. Is [illegible] the largest yet fou[illegible] In [illegible] is now in the Briti[illegible] So[illegible]pany's museum at Lo[illegible]dings, E. C.—Lond[illegible] Ma[illegible]

The Bellefonte Republican

The Best Advertising Medium in Central Pennsylvania.

SPACE OCCUPIED.	3m	6m	1y
One inch (12 lines this type	$ 5	$ 8	$12
Two inches	7	10	15
Three inches	10	15	20
Four inches	11	17	25
Quarter column	12	20	30
Half column	26	35	55
One column	35	55	100

All advertisements, whether displayed or blank lines, measured by lines of this type.

All advertisements due after the first insertion.

Special notices inserted in our local columns at 20 cents per line for each insertion unless otherwise agreed, by the month, quarter or year.

Editorial notices, in our local columns, 25 cents per line for each insertion

Professional or Business Cards, not exceeding 10 lines this type, $8 per annum.

All advertisements for a less term than three months 20 cents per line for the first three insertions, and 5 cents per line for each additional insertion.

Advertisers, and especially Advertising Agents, are respectfully informed that no notice will be taken of orders to insert advertisments at less rates than the above, nor will any notice be given to orders of parties unknown to the publisher, unless accompanied by the cash.

EDWARD T. TUTEN.

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Centre county will meet in their respective voting places in the several election districts in the county, on

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1906,

for the purpose of electing delegates to the County Convention. The delegates so chosen will meet in convention at the Court House in Bellefonte at 11 A. M. on TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1906.

For the purpose of nominating one candidate for the Legislature and one candidate for the office of Jury Commissioner: three delegates to the State Convention, three conferees to meet other conferees from the several counties for the Twenty-first Congressional District to name a candidate for Congress; and three conferees to meet other conferees from Clearfield county to name a candidate for State Senator to represent the Thirty-fourth Senatorial District. The said convention will also elect a Chairman of the Republican County Committee for the year 1907, and transact such other business as may properly come before it.

Under the re-apportionment according to the rules of the Party, the various Precincts of the County are entitled to the number of delegates indicated in the following schedule:

NUMBER OF DELEGATES.
Bellefonte N W	7	Half Moon	3
Bellefonte S W	5	Harris	2
Bellefonte W W	2	Howard Twp	2
Centre Hall	1	Huston	2
Howard Borough	3	Liberty E P	4
Milesburg	3	Liberty W P	1
Millheim	1	Marion	1
Philipsburg 1st W	4	Miles East P	1
Philipsburg 2d W	8	Miles Middle P	1
Philipsburg 3d W	5	Miles West P	1
South Philipsburg	2	Patton	3
State College Boro	3	Penn	1
Unionville Boro	1	Potter North P	1
Benner N Precinct	2	Potter South P	1
Benner S Precinct	2	P P	1
Boggs East Precinct	2	P P	1
Boggs West Precinct	4	P P	3
Boggs North Pre't	1	P P	5
Burnside	1	East P	5
College Twp	4	West P	1
Curtin	2	Spring North P	3
Ferguson East P	2	Spring South P	4
Ferguson West P	2	Spring West P	3
Gregg North P	1	Taylor	3
Gregg East P	1	Union	3
Gregg West P	2	Walker East P	2
Haines East P	1	Walker Middle P	1
Haines West P	2	Walker West P	1
		Worth	3
Total number of delegates			135
Necessary to choice in nomination			68

In the Boroughs of Bellefonte, Centre Hall, Howard, Milesburg, Millheim, Unionville, South Philipsburg and State College, and in townships of Benner, College, Howard, Potter, Snow Shoe, Rush, Union, Spring, Boggs, Walker, Harris, Marion, Middle precinct of Miles, Liberty, Patton and Ferguson, the polls will open at 7 p. m. and close at 9 p. m., and in the remaining districts will open at 2 p. m., and close at 4 p. m., except Halfmoon township, where the polls will open at 6 p. m and close at 8 p. m. and Worth Township where the polls will open at 3 o'clock and close at 6 p. m., and the Borough of Philipsburg, where the polls will open at 5 p. m. and close at 8 p. m

The primary election for delegates will be held under the supervision of the district committeemen who will post proper notices, advertising as far as possible the delegate election in their respective precincts and also see that the proper election officers are designated, in attendance and that they are duly sworn. They will also be careful to see that the polls are open during the hours designated in this call. This election will be conducted in strict accordance with the rules adopted by the party at the convention held on May 19th, 1903 and the amendment thereto

HENRY C. QUIGLEY
Chairman Republican Co. Com.
GEO. W. REES, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE.

1906.

HENRY C. QUIGLEY, Chairman, Bellefonte.
George W. Rees, Secretary, Bellefonte.
Harry Keller, }
A. M. Sloteman, } Ass't Sec's, Bellefonte.
Wilson I. Fleming, }

DISTRICT.	NAME	ADDRESS
Bellefonte, N W	Samuel B. Miller	B'f'n'
" S W	John Houser	"
" W W	Earle C Tuten,	"
Centre Hall boro	B. D. Brisbin	Centre Hall
Milesburg	Dr. S. M. Huff	Milesburg
Millheim "	J Spigelmyer	Millheim
Howard "	Allen Irvin	Howard
Philipsburg 1 w	Dr. J. Dunwiddie	Philipsb'g
" 2"	Wm. Hurley	Philipsburg
" 3"	J N Schoonover	"
S Philipsburg	Daniel Stine	Philipsburg
College boro	Christ Evey	State College
Unionville Boro	Joseph Barton,	Fleming
Benner twp, N P.	Geo. G. Hastings.	Bellefonte
Benner twp, S P.	J. Harris Hoy	Bellefonte
Boggs Twp N P	John Richart	Yarnell
Boggs Twp E P	H A Curtin	Roland
Boggs Twp W P.	Scott Walters	Milesburg
Burnside Twp	Edward Craft	Moshannon
College Twp	Jacob Herman	Lemont
Curtin "	John A Daley	Romola
Ferguson Twp E P.	J. I. Reed	P O Mills
Ferguson " W P.	J W Sunday	Penna Furnace
Gregg " N P	Isaac Smith.	Farmers Mills
Gregg " E P.	Sam'l Ulrich.	Spring Mills
Gregg " W P.	W. M Allison	"
Haines " E P.	C. D. Motz	Woodward
Haines " W P.	Jas C Weaver	Aaronsbg
Patton Twp	Frank Clemson	Benore
Half Moon "	Geo W Loner	Stormstown
Harris "	Dr L E Kidder	Boalsburg
Howard "	Ralph Schenck	Howard
Huston "	J W Williams.	Martha
Liberty " EP.	M Pletcher.	Blanchard
Liberty " WP.	Clark Paul	Monument
Marion "	Rob't. Bennison.	Abdera
Miles " EP.	M W Adams	Livonia
Miles " MP.	C H Gramley	Rebersburg
Miles " WP	Chas. Grimm.	Madisonburg
Penn "	T B Motz	Coburn
Potter " N P.	Robt M Smith.	Centre Hall
Potter " S P.	Ed Allison	Potters Mills
Potter " WP.	John T Smith	Colyer
Rush " E P.	Harry Potts	Munson
Rush " N P.	Thomas James.	Philipsburg
Rush " S P.	Lott Callahan	Sandy Ridge
Snow Shoe E P.	W A Sickle	Snow Shoe
" " WP.	Thos D Weaver	Moshannon
Spring Twp N P	William Swarmer	Bellefonte
Spring " S P	William Hoover	Pleasant Gap
Spring " W P	Snyder Tate	Bellefonte
Taylor "	A K Price	Hannah Furnace
Union "	E P Barton	Fleming
Walker " M P.	J H Rathmel	Hublersburg
" E.P.	James Nolan	Nittany
" W.P	Christ Decker	Zion
Worth "	H C Woodring	Port Matilda

—Fine Black goods Garmans
Fine Black goods Garmans
Fine Black goods Garmans
Fine Black goods Garmans

FOR SALE.—An Eddy ice-box in perfect order. Seven dollars.
Mrs. N. D. ORBISON, 111 Spring St.

STATE POLICE ENTER MT. CARMEL

Ride Through Town and Are Not Molested.

Mt. Carmel, Pa., May 3.—Captain Page and most of his state constabulary appeared here fully armed and mounted without meeting with any disrespect or of any offensive remarks. It is believed the constabulary now has the situation well in hand. The captain did not attempt to arrrest any of the participants of Monday's fight and may not for some time. After riding about town he detailed a number of squads of from four to six men to patrol the streets for some time before they were recalled to camp at the Sayre collieries. When one of his squads was about to enter Locust Gap, a small town several miles southeast of here, a committee of mine workers requested them to stop for a conference, whereupon the troopers were asked not to enter the place. Sergeant Damon, in command, at once ordered the men to continue the journey. They rode through the Gap, and were not interfered with. It was said that despite the troubles here with the constabulary, several United Mine Workers locals of the town instructed their delegates not to vote for a strike at the Scranton convention.

JOHN C. GROOME.
[Superintendent state constabulary.]

PENNYPACKER'S PROCLAMATION

Calls Upon Citizens to Assist in Maintaining Order.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 3.—Governor Pennypacker issued a proclamation in reference to the industrial disturbances in Pennsylvania, in which he calls upon all citizens to assist in the maintenance of the law and declares that violence will not be tolerated. The proclamation follows:

In the name and by authority of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania executive department.

PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, Industrial disturbances have recently arisen in various parts of the commonwealth, accompanied by manifestations of violence and disorder;

Now, therefore, I, Samuel Whitaker Pennypacker, governor of Pennsylvania, do issue this my proclamation and call upon all citizens by their conduct, example and utterances, whether printed or verbal, to assist in the maintenance of the law. Times of commotion furnish the test of the capacity of the people for self-government. Every man is entitled to labor and get for his labor the highest compensation he can lawfully secure. There is no law to compel him to labor unless he so chooses, and he may cease to labor whenever he considers it to be to his interest so to cease. The laboring man out of whose efforts wealth arises has the sympathy of all disinterested people in his lawful struggles to secure a larger proportion of the profit which results from his labor. What he earns belongs to him, and if he invests his earnings the law protects his property just as the rights of property of all men must be protected. He has no right to interfere with another man who may want to labor. Violence has no place among us and will not be tolerated. Let all men in quiet and soberness keep the peace and attend to their affairs with the knowledge that it is the purpose of the commonwealth to see that the principles herein outlined are enforced.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the state, at the city of Harrisburg, this second day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six, and of the commonwealth the one hundred and thirtieth.

By the Governor:
SAMUEL W. PENNYPACKER.

Mileage Book Suit Against Pennsy.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 2.—Attorney General Carson filed a bill in eqiuty in the Dauphin county court to restrain the Pennsylvania and allied companies from collecting a $10 rebate on each $20 interchangeable mileage book sold. The reasons cited by the attorney general for bringing suit are similiar to those given at the time his bill was sent to the state printer for printing. The date of the hearing has not yet been fixed.

Earthquake Created New Island.

San Francisco, May 2.—Professor E. Knowlton has just returned from a 30-mile walk to Bolinas Bay, where, he says, there is evidence that the recent earthquake had its centre. Few, if any, of the houses in that vicinity escaped damage, but no fatalities occurred. There is now an island in Bolinas Bay where were formerly muddy shoals, and on either side of the island the water is ten feet deep.

A FRIGHTENED ACTRESS.

When Malibran Ran For Her Life From Her Father.

Malibran was an exceptional woman as well as a great singer, and she had an interesting and spontaneous temperament. The daughter of Garcia, she had a harsh and difficult master in her own father.

When she was sixteen he one day came to her room and without any kind of preparation said to her, "You will make your first appearance with me on Saturday in 'Otello.'"

It gave her exactly six days for preparation. The child, terrified nearly into speechlessness, stammered that she could not possibly do it—what he asked was impossible. But Garcia could take no contradiction. All he answered was: "You'll make your first appearance on Saturday, and be perfect. If not, in the last scene, when I am supposed to plunge my dagger into your breast, I'll do so in real earnest."

The frightened girl had to make the best of it. Her success was absolute, but one little piece of realism in her acting at the end was a delicious though entirely unconscious piece of retaliation upon her father for a rather brutal method. Her Desdemona had been exquisite; she had made her what she was herself, a child, innocent and submissive and adoring.

But in the last act, when Othello strode toward her with uplifted dagger, la Malibran, truly frightened out of her wits, ran away from him and made for windows and doors, frantically trying to escape. When her father at last caught hold of her, so real had the whole thing become that, seizing the hand with which he was supposed to murder her, she bit it till it bled.

Garcia gave a cry of pain, which the audience took for a cry of rage, and the act ended in deafening applause for father and daughter.

The incident reveals la Malibran. She was never, in one sense of the word, an actress at all. There was no studied counterfeit of emotions, but a woman with an extraordinary power of losing herself in the emotions of others.—T. P.'s Weekly.

FORCED TO EAT BOOKS.

Human Beings Who Were Compelled to Devour Literature.

Among the causes that contribute to the destruction of books, says an Italian writer, Americo Scarlatti, there is one very curious one that may be called bibliophagia. No reference is intended to the mice that once destroyed in England an entire edition of Castell's "Lexicon Heptaglotton," but to human beings who have literally devoured books.

In 1370 Barnabo Visconti compelled two papal delegates to eat the bull of excommunication which they had brought him, together with its silken cords and leaden seal. As the bull was written on parchment, says the Scientific American, not paper, it was all the more difficult to digest.

A similar anecdote was related by Oelrich in his "Dissertatio de Bibliothecarum et Librorum Fatis" (1756) of an Austrian general who had signed a note for 2,000 florins and when it fell due compelled his creditors to eat it.

The Tartars, when books fall into their possession, eat them that they may acquire the knowledge contained in them.

A Scandinavian writer, the author of a political book, was compelled to choose between being beheaded or eating his manuscript boiled in broth.

Isaac Volmar, who wrote some spicy satires against Bernard, duke of Saxony, was not allowed the courtesy of the kitchen, but was forced to swallow them uncooked.

Still worse was the fate of Philip Oldenburger, a jurist of great renown, who was condemned not only to eat a pamphlet of his writings, but also to be flogged during his repast, with orders that the flogging should not cease until he had swallowed the last crumb.

Terror Saved Her.

A tale of a paralytic and a stroke of lightning: For twenty-two years a woman had been paralyzed, unable to leave her room. One night when she happened to be alone in the house a fierce storm broke. The poor woman was terrified by the thunder and the blinding glare of the lightning. With an effort of which no one had believed her capable she struggled from her bed and to the house of a neighbor. Barely had she reached safety when the place she had just left was struck by lightning. The room in which she had lived so long was rent in two and everything in it was burned or smashed. Power of locomotion had been restored to the cripple just in time to save her life.—Chicago News.

GOVERNMENT TUG RAMMED

The Mina, Struck By Submarine Boat, Beached to Prevent Sinking.

Newport, R. I., May 3.—The government tug Mina was rammed by the submarine torpedo boat Porpoise during manoeuvres in Coddington Cove, and the tug was forced to run full speed for the shore to escape sinking. The submarines Porpoise, Lieutenant Knowlton, and Shark, Lieutenant Sharpley, were making tests in Coddington Cove, with the Mina acting as escort. The Porpoise in coming to the surface at a good speed, struck the Mina on the starboard bow below the water line and stove a hole in her a few feet from the bow. The forward compartment filled with water, but Chief Boatswain Sullivan, who was commanding the tug, swung her about and headed for the shore, at the same time clinging for full speed. The tug's bow was well down when she grounded on a sandy beach. The Porpoise was not injured.

FRISCO HAS FUNDS

Over $200,000,000 Available to Rebuild the City.

NO PERIOD OF HARD TIMES

The Great Task of Cleaning Up the Burned District Is Now Under Way—Eastern Architects Are Not Needed.

San Francisco, May 3.—An investigation demonstrated that the fear that San Francisco will suffer a period of hard times as an aftermath of the disastrous fire is unfounded. Careful estimate made by authorities competent to speak show that within the next year there will be more than $200,000,000 available for the rehabilitation of San Francisco.

The following figures make clear where this sum is to originate: Investment of new Geary street municipal road, $340,000; Home Telephone company expenditures, $1,000,000; insurance losses now due and payable (approximately), $175,000,000; United railways, new constructions, $9,000,000; city bonds of 1904, sum still available, $17,000,000; Ocean Shore railway, approximated expenditure here, $1,000,000; restoration of Pacific States Telephone company, $1,000,000; restoration of government buildings, $770,000; building of sea wall, $2,000,000. Total, $207,110,000.

It is expected that a large part of this money will come from eastern and foreign capitalists. In figuring the two hundred and odd million which will be available, the investigators did not take into consideration the sums that may be raised for the beautification and improvement of the city.

The vexatious problem of placing the new Chinatown will probably be settled to the satisfaction of the Chinese colony. It is the desire of the municipality not to harrass this portion of its foreign population, and the desires of representatives of China will be considered.

The two weeks that have elapsed since the day of the earthquake have witnessed a transformation from chaos to regular order. The unburned region has been nearly restored to its normal condition, and when housewives are permitted to return to their kitchens to cook, after the required inspection of chimneys, the streets will have their natural appearance.

In the burned area each day brings its added share of improvement, and the great task of cleaning up has been fairly started.

Captain Gwynn asked for police assistance in investigating reports relative to dead bodies in the ruins of the burned area. Captain Gwynn has been looking for the dead for several days, and he does not believe that the total will amount to 1500, as the coroner says. So far the military authorities have a record of something over 350 dead bodies, and in the opinion of Captain Gwynn 500 will be as many as will ever be recovered.

Rufus P. Jennings, secretary of the citizens' committee, said that some misapprehension evidently existed in the east as to San Francisco's need for architects, contractors and draughtsmen. The day following the earthquake, Mayor Schmitz sent a telegram to a number of eastern cities, asking how many architects, contractors and draughtsmen were available in case they were needed. The telegrams were apparently misunderstood. Dispatches have been received announcing that architects had started for San Francisco. The mayor's telegram merely desired information. At a meeting of the state board of architects, the declaration was made that architects would find it difficult to maintain themselves in San Francisco at this time. In Mr. Jennings' opinion, there might possibly be a field for eastern architects at some later day, but he suggested that they might seek information before coming west.

University's Loss $1,500,000.

Berkeley, Cal., May 3. — President Benjamin Ide Wheeler said that the University of California lost $1,500,000 by earthquake and fire. The losses include two buildings in San Francisco with an annual income of $60,000, the equipment of the clinic of the department of dentistry, and the destruction of the Mark Hopkins Art Institute. The insurance on the two income buildings was $176,000.

Red Cross Raised $1,738,000.

Washington, May 3.—The total sum of money raised by the American Red Cross up to date for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers is $1,738,000. Of this sum $400,000 has been sent in cash to San Francisco; $34,000 was spent for blankets forwarded for the relief work, and $2000 was used in buying provisions.

President Addresses Deaf Mutes.

Washington, May 3. — President Roosevelt was the guest for an hour at the Columbian Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Kendall Green, this city, on the annual occasion of the presentation of candidates for degrees. There were orations by five of the young men, including one by Thure Lindstrom, of Washington state, on the Panama canal, which concluded with an address directed to the president, expressing the gratitude of the students for what the national government had done in behalf of the institution. The president addressed the candidates, complimenting them and manifesting his great interest in their work.

WILL UNSEAT REED SMOOT

Majority of Senate Committee Will Vote Against Utah Senator.

Washington, May 3.—A poll of the senate committee on privileges and elections developed that a majority will vote to sustain the charges against Seantor Reed Smoot, but that the full strength of the opposition cannot be held for a report recommending the exclusion of the seantor, which would require only a majority vote of the senate. In view of this showing, those who believe the charges against the Utah senator were proved, are seeking an agreement by which a report can be made in favor of unseating Mr. Smoot, and without taking into consideration the constitutional questions involved. If this is done, it would leave to the senate the determination of the question whether a majority or two-thirds vote is required to unseat him.

BIG VICTORY FOR AMERICANS

Won the Greatest Number of Prizes at Olympic Games.

Athens, May 3.—Amid the strains of the national anthem and cheering and handclapping and in the presence of an immense gathering, the Olympic games came to an end. All the afternoon King George, Queen Olga, Crown Prince Constantine and other members of the royal family stood in the heat of the sun, distributing prizes to the successful competitors, Sherring, the Canadian, who won Marathon road race on Tuesday, receiving a beautiful statue of Minerva. There was an exhibition of gymnastics by 6000 Greek school children, who were well drilled, and who marched in fours in front of the royal seats.

The Americans had all their own way, and won by far the greatest number of prizes. Their score was 74, whereas the English scored second with 39, the Swedes and Greeks tying in third place with 28.

BONAPARTE IS BETTER

But Secretary of Navy Will Not Resume Duties For Week or More.

Baltimore, May 3.—His attending physician, Dr. Thomas R. Brown, reports that Secretary of the Navy Charles J. Bonaparte, who has been confined to his home by an attack of acute indigestion, is better, but that he will probably not be able to resume his duties in Washington for at least a week or ten days. Secretary and Mrs. Bonaparte had planned to open their country residence in Baltimore county, on May 10, and it is not anticipated the secretary's condition will interfere with this arrangement.

Thieves Stole Cornerstone.

Pasadena, Cal., May 2.—Thieves stole the cornerstone of the North Pasadena Methodist Church. The stone weighs about 300 pounds, and contained coins and other small valuables worth probably $10. The church was just completed a few days ago, and is a large and expensive edifice. The cornerstone was pried out of the building and removed entirely from the premises.

WILL BUILD LOCK CANAL

Congress Won't Determine Style of Waterway Across Isthmus.

COMMISSION ASKS FOR $26,348,000

Amount Needed to Continue Construction of Canal During the Next Fiscal Year, Based on Eighty-five Foot Level.

Washington, May 3.—Congress is not likely to pass legislation determining the type of canal to be constructed across the Isthmus of Panama. Although no vote was taken, that was the drift of a discussion by the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals. The sentiment expressed by an overwhelming majority of the committee was that the present law, the Spooner act, intended to provide for a lock canal, and that congress, having once decided this question, should not alter its decision, especially as the administration charged with the construction favors that plan.

The senators who were pronounced in their support of the administration, which desires to build a canal in compliance with the plans recommended by the minority of the board of consulting engineers, were Millard, Knox, Hopkins, Simmons and Platt. Senators Dryden and Ankeny, it is said, probably will vote in the same way. Senators Kittridge and Taliaferro spoke in favor of a sea level canal, while Senator Morgan said that he preferred his own plan and was inclined not to vote on the question at all.

The senate committee has many questions it desires to consider in connection with the government of the canal zone, and it is believed that at the next executive session a vote will be taken not to report a bill on the type of canal. During the discussion Secretary Taft's report was quoted, as follows:

"If congress decides in favor of a lock canal, or if it chooses not to make any decision at all and is willing to leave the situation as it is upon the law, the president will not hesitate to adopt the plan recommended by the minority, with some possible modifications, and proceed to the speedy construction of the great waterway at an 85 foot level."

The isthmian canal commission met and decided to ask for an appropriation of $26,348,281 to continue the construction of the canal during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907.

These estimates are for a lock canal, and a letter from Chairman Shonts to the secretary of war, written to accompany the estimates, states that the existing law authorizes a lock canal, and in the absence of any other legislation the commision prepared estimates for a canal of that type.

SHARPLES LOW DOWN TUBULAR

Cream separators

are different from others.

Write me for catalogue and prices.....

ISAAC UNDERWOOD,

District Agent for Sharples Separators and Geiser Manufacturing Company.

Office and residence 122 North Spring Street,

BELLEFONTE, PA.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

10-DAY EXCURSION TO

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Thursday, May 10, 1906

Round trip $8.25 from Bellefonte

Proportionate rates from other points.

Tickets good going on train leaving at 9:25 a. m., connecting

With Special Train of Parlor Cars and Standard Coaches

LEAVING PITTSBURG AT 8 00 A. M.

Tickets are also good on train No. 4, leaving Pittsburg at 8:50 p. m., and its connections. Tickets will be good returning until May 19th inclusive, and to stop off at Baltimore within limit. For tickets and additional information apply to Ticket Agents.

J. R. WOOD, Passenger Traffic Manager.

GEO. W. BOYD, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

Milesburg.

John Peace is now prepared to accommodate the public with rigs and horses at reasonable rates to suit the purse of all who wishes to hire. He has a pacer that will cover one mile in two minutes and 16 seconds.

Miss Hannah Green arrived home after a three months visit with friends at Holidaysburg.

Dorsey Green of Buffalo Run was a guest of his sister Hannah on Saturday last.

Mrs. Pauline Hibler and daughter Miss Mary after an extended visit with her daughter Miss Mary after an extended visit with her daughter Tressie of N. Y. city arrived home.

One of our merchants last week passed through an ordeal with a lady shoe polish agent soliciting orders from our merchants for the polish, she failing to receive an order from him she kindly asked him to put his foot on a chair to polish his shoes to show the virtue of the goods she was handling he did as requested she went to work put on a bright polish to a finish, to ease the lady of her work he wished to polish the other himself, but she refused to let him and finished his shoes with good taste, the store being full of young men at the time after the job was pronounced satisfactory in reply she says, I will not charge you with the bottle, I will charge you 25 cents for the shine. The young men had lots of fun with him after the lady left the store they guyed him for all that was in the 25 cents shine unexpected to the merchant. Moral beware of lady solicitors—William.

Frank Smith and wife of Snow Shoe Sundayed with his parents A. S. Smith and wife.

The stork on Thursday of last week called at the home of Thomas Shope on Pike street and presented a 10 lb boy to him for his care and keeping.

Jas. Grafmire and wife arrived home from a visit to Holidaysburg.

Sam'l Baird and Clyde McKinley last week started to a mountain stream for trout found many fishermen they succeeded in catching 40, 8 and 10 inch trout. Came home rejoicing over their catch.

Robert Stevens of Bellwood visited the burg last week.

Sam'l L. Fulton of McKeesport arrived home Sunday morning.

William F. Peters of Boggs township is now in possession of the under plow truck will do the plowing with a safe team, when he is spreading manure at one end of the field he will start the team with the plain truck, at the other end a boy will turn the team starting it back to him again plowing all day in that way doing the work with perfect satisfaction. He says he would not take the best horse in Centre county and do without the plow truck. He also has the bell telephone in his residence any one wishing to talk with him on the subject can do so. William is O K in the plowing business understands it thoroughly.

Port Matilda

Fine weather, isn't it? Roads are in fine condition now. The indications are that we are going to have a large wheat crop this year.

The remains of G. Frank Woodring, who was kicked and tramped at his home by a vicious horse Monday night of last week at about 11 o'clock and lay unconscious until 3 p. m. Tuesday, when he died, were laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery in this place on last Friday. A larger funeral never was held in this place before. Relatives and friends gathered from far and near to pay their last respect to one who was well known and liked by all who knew him. He was always ready to lend a helping hand. He was a kind and loving husband and father. He was buried by the honors of the I. & N. Jr. Mechanics. There were about $200 worth of flowers given by the different orders and lodges, of which he was a member, and by the official body of the Morrison & Cass Paper Co., by whom he was employed, and by the employees and others. He is the first to be taken away out of a family of nine brothers and two sisters. He leaves to mourn him a wife and nine children, the following of whom are married and live in Tyrone: Clark, Benner, Mrs. Francis Gillman, Mrs. Walter Galbraith and Mrs. Ellsworth Cronister. Etta, Robert, Mary and Herbert at home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Woodring, are both alive.

If you want to see a nicely arranged and cleanly kept store just take a peep through that of C. M. Crain. Yes, it pays, but it takes a good deal of work don't it, Minnie?

H. C. Woodring was in what might have been a serious accident on Tuesday. He was on the coal wago and Harry Cowher was driving. Some way or other Harry run the wagon off the side of a small bridge and one of the planks tilted up at one end and struck Mr. Woodring on the left foot above the ankle. No bones were broken, but it has been quite a sore thing for him.

H. F. Chaney is having a new floor put in the store occupied by Elliott McKinney and is also having a new roof put on part of it.

Woodward.

Elwood Orndorf and Edward Shiesley two young men from town spent Sunday with J. B. Gentzel at Wolfe's Store.

Mrs John Fultz and son Roy from Northumberland are visiting friends in town.

While Mrs. Ida Kessinger was visiting her mother one day last week she took sick suddenly.

Howard Bowersox is home on a visit.

Thos. Wolfe and family from Feidler spent the Sabbath with James Weaver.

Mrs. Ard left for Philadelphia on Tuesday morning at which place she will visit her children.

Sam'l Kitner wife and baby visited the gentleman's mother a few days last week.

TREASURER'S SALE OF UNSEATED LANDS FOR TAXES OF 1904—1905—Agreeable to the provisions of law relating to the sale of unseated tracts of land for the non-payment of taxes, notice is hereby given that there will be exposed at public sale or outcry, the following tracts or parts of tracts of unseated lands in Centre county Penna., for taxes due and unpaid thereon, at the Court house, in the borough of Bellefonte, on Monday, June 11th, at 1 o'clock p. m., and to continue, if necessary, by adjournment from day to day until all are sold.

BENNER TWP.

Acres.	Per	Warrantee	Supposed Owners	Taxes
100		Hale J M	G W Lonberger	3 22
50		Harris J D	W C Heinle	1 28
50		Lingle J J	John Shugert	3 66
50		Lingle J J	Reynolds	3 93
45		Kuhns Paul	W A Thomas Est	57
25		Kuhns Richard	W A Thomas Est	32
55		Kuhns Simon	W A Thomas Est	72
150		Unknown	Houser Fred	6 15

BOGGS TWP.

300		McCoy Frank	W C Heinle	8 61
50		Packer & Lucas	A V Lucas	2 85
50		Unknown	George Bee	1 44

BURNSIDE TWP.

½ of 4	3 153	Beyer John	John J Bower	8 25
½ of 433	163	Beyer John	John J Bower	8 25
½ of 140	22	Cox Paul	J H Holt	4 10
140	22	Cox Paul	John J Bower	4 10
433	163	Donnelly John	Howard Spencer	10 47
433	163	Ewing John	Dr C A Allen	24 97
433	163	Fox Samuel M	A P Morrison	24 97
½ of 433	163	Hall Charles	John M Dale	12 84
½ of 433	163	Hall Charles	Arthur Graham	1 58
400		Long J Z	J Z Long	21 38
146	75	Miller William	J C Meyer	8 75
70		Nickelson John	George Boak	4 19
50		Unknown	G A Humpton	2 93
141		John Vaughn	Wolverton & Holt	2 93
410	151	Wallace Joseph	F N C Choate	9 04

COLLEGE TWP.

364		Johnson Ross	P B Crider	29 34

CURTIN TWP.

200		Allen Charles	Wm Harvey	16 08
294		Bruce Charles	Orvis & Morrison	16 90
30		Carskadden D	John J Bower	7 17
119		DeHaven Peter	John Bowden	11 24
164		E'vs Cadwallader	John Bowden	11 35
114		Elliet Ruth	Samuel Hall	23 60
418		Godfrey J W	Wm C Heinle	5 26
169		Lane Sarah	Robt J Mann	4 01
71		Lane S	M I Gardner	4 11
178		Lane Mary	S D Gettig	5 21
146	75	Miller Jas	Lycoming Timber Co	11 24
158	93	Packer J W	W C Heinle	4 96
210		Palmer John	W C Heinle	12 71
415		Roberts Jos	Samuel Hall	23 56
200		Turner Richard	Wm Harvey	6 56

FERGUSON TWP.

	25	Anderson John	D M Bare & Co.	1 38
400		Baker James	D M Bare & Co.	34 15
110		Baker John	D M Bare & Co.	6 26
59		Burnet Joseph	D M Bare & Co.	2 16
235		Burnet Isaac	D E Bare & Co.	19 92
65		Buckley Isaac	Morrison & Cass Paper Co.	2 80
50		Bryson Samuel	Ellis Lytle	7 13
37		Horner Benj Jr	Morrison & Cass Paper Co.	1 60
10		Hicks Abram	Daniel Beck	22
¼		Koblinger Geo	Jacob Kreider	81
300		Lusby Josiah	D M Bare & Co	17 07
25		Miles Samuel	D W Miller	72
178		Manly Henry	Morrison & Cass Paper Co	10 69
329		Mosley Richard	Morrison & Cass Paper Co.	8 65
36		McKean John	C T Aiken	6 87
150		McWilliams W	W McWilliams Est	14 29
55		Mitchell David	Chas Fitzhugh	87
100		Moore Thomas J	Chas Fitzhugh	5 05
265		Nice Geo & M	Barrett	34 29
125		North Caleb	D M Bare & Co	7 16
175		Patton John	H C Bailey	2 85
400		Petherbridge J Sr	D M Bare & Co	11 44
63		Petherbridge J Sr	D M Bare & Co	4 30
275		Rankin Reuben	D M Bare & Co	4 30
90		Shannon John	Thos T Shanon	14 23
10		Unknown	D W Miller	29
40		Unknown	W T Stevens	1 72
150		Unknown	Miller & Sexton	4 30

GREGG TWP.

290		Antis Henry	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	5 10
200		Anderson Jacob	" "	5 10
130		Duncan Daniel	Ed Allison	1 75
70		Gregg Smith	Ed Allison	1 05
119		Mosby Jacob	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	2 75
330		McDowell Alex	W C Heinle	5 79
200		Tower James	W M Grove	6 77
39		Unknown	Pierce Dornblazer	54

HAINES TWP.

359		Antis Henry	Charles Steel	8 48
196		Amard	W C Heinle	2 37
135		Cauly H H	Daniel Engle	2 78
458		Epler Adam	Laurelton Lumber Co.	10 85
458	63	Epler Peter	Linden Hall Lumber Co	10 85
181		Fees Jacob	H C Hyatt	4 24
400		Gratz Simon	John Stoner	4 75
380		Hosterman & Deob	John Stoner	4 50
229	28	Haupt & Hunter	John Stoner	2 28
288		Henry James	Wm Vonada	13 45
160		Harter W J	Laurelton Lumber Co.	3 68
437	108	Hartman John	Samuel Decker	10 37
300		Hosterman Peter	John Stoner	3 76
70	25	Harter D B	Geo Ulrich	82
149	99	Kreamer Geo	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	5 87
159		Levy Aaron	J H Reifsnyder	3 59
228	150	Mosby Wm	Grove & Smith	5 45
80		John Motz	Daniel Engle	1 40
150		Philips Levy	J H Reifsnyder	3 58
200		Snyder Geo	Laurelton Lumber Co.	5 71
200		Snyder Kate	"	4 71
21	71	Steel Chas	"	47
106		Workman Math	H C Hyatt	2 36

HALFMOON TWP.

167		Anshultz Geo	Chas Fitzhugh	11 03
33		Bates Daniel	Mrs Knoche	53
21		Curtin Roland & Son	Jno Thompson	3 09
44	99	Cross James	D M Bare & Co.	7 93
76		Elder Abraham	Francis Knoche	1 33
700	120	Jaliff Richards	D M Bair & Co	43 44
95		Keith Jacob	Chas Fitzhugh	8 20
40		Wm King	G Wood Miller	7 21
400	20	Lamburn Wm	D M Bair & Co	43 44
120		Lamburn Josiah	F P Blair	4 32
60		Pyle Jacob	Francis Knoche	1 05
21		Pyle David	Francis Knoche	35
117		Thompson Jno	J T Thompson	13 69
131		Unknown	Harry Keller	2 89

HARRIS TWP.

133		Fox George	N B Spangler	3 49
151	40	Forbes James	Linden Hall Lumber Co	4 31
197		Fox George	Wm Witmer Sons Co.	5 71
185		Stophel Henry	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	5 15
		"	Jas Glenn	2 31
		"	W C Heinle	73
		Parker Richard	W Witmer Sons Co	5 63
412	124	Parker Thos	" "	11 43
278		Reynolds John	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	7 60
88		Reynolds Jno	"	2 86
335		Wharton Kearney	N B Spangler	11 43

HOWARD TWP.

104	63	Brady Jno	W C Heinle	4 79
104	63	Brady Jno	W C Heinle	4 79
40		Justlin H A	Chas Rothrock	1 92

HUSTON TWP.

239		Gratz ——	Clement Dale	27 29
2 5		Unknown	J A Mattern	14 21
56		Kuhn —	S F & M D Gray	1 42
45		Kuhn Adam	Wm A Thomas Est	1 07
175		Kuhn Andrew	"	4 13
110		Kuhn Daniel	"	2 61
433	163	Wheiland Jno	Chas Lewis	19 56

LIBERTY TWP.

65		Hamilton Archey	H P Trezlyulney	4 23
166		Hayes Rob & Jas	D & J Bechdel	10 27
⅛	390	Irvin Robert	W H Gardner	9 06
⅛	390	Irvin Robert	W C Heinle	10 61
185		Jackson Jerem'h	Harry Keller	3 40
250		Jackson Jno	W C Heinle	7 21
400		Leach Martha	"	11 54
400		Leach Martha	"	11 54
60		Nestlerode Chris	Balser Weber	3 63
50		Parsons Thos C H P	Trezlyulney	3 02
100		Packer Job W	George Bee	2 88

MARION TWP.

50		Harris Jas	Conrad Diehl	2 16
220		Lewis Thomas	S D Gettig	59
118	120	Lamb David	David Harter	59
200		Unknown	Isaac Fraln	5 82
100		Unknown	L P Hieronimer	2 01
17		Unknown	Wm Johnsonbaugh	4 87
⅛ of 199		Zatzinger Paul	Theodore Velle	2 91

MILES TWP.

200		Antis Henry	J H Reifsnyder	9 44
90		Antis Frederick	"	4 61
300		Boyd Thomas	Sarah J Rine	3 05
440		Brady Wm P	Mrs N Haugh	10 38
273		Barton Wm	"	25 36
49		Brooks Jesse	J H Reifsnyder	2 33
100		Brady Wm	L C Hieronimer	2 33
9		Benson Peter	W R Goodman	4 67
200		Buchtell Jno	Isaac Miller	20
150		Brady Jno	W C Heinle	2 16
403		Cooper Wm	J H Reifsnyder	3 52
50		Carothers Jas	Mrs M Haugh	9 34
156		Cowden Jno	L C Hieronimer	2 33
320		Derr & Stahl	W C Heinle	2 19
148	66	Fearon Jas	J H Reifsnyder	7 47
250		Housel Jno	"	7 47
66		"	W C Heinle	5 80
		Hepburn Jas	Linden Hall Lumber Co,	4 44
217		Hepburn Jas	"	4 07
250		Jackson Jerem'h	W C Heinle	4 72
250		"	Kulp & Co	23 37
400		Lake Richard	Linden Hall Lumber Co	18 68
100		Levy Rachel	J H Reifsnyder	4 67
9-16	402 132	Miles Wm	John J Bower	5 14
7-16	402 132	"	"	4 23
34	49	Marks Henry	Wm Witmer Sons Co	1 18
87	120	Maxey Jno & Benj Young	"	1 18
58		"	W C Heinle	66
608		Swineford P & J	Laurelton Lumber Co	14 15
		H Reifsnyder	Linden Hall Lumber Co,	94
7-12	of 72	Shafer Michael	"	72
5-12	of 72	Shafer Michael	W C Heinle	11 45
413		Tripp Jas	W C Heinle	47
8		Unknown	J H Beck	99
100		"	Harry Keller	2 33
44		"	"	99
38		Weaver David	Linden Hall Lumber Co	23
315		Williams Daniel	W C Heinle	10 30
150		Young Benjamin	John J Bower	3 52
43	63	"	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	1 18

PATTON TWP.

300	120	Baker Jacob	D M Bair & Co.	72 82
10		Grove Robert	W G Runkle	1 59
40	120	Horner Benj	D M Bair & Co.	119 68
130		Kuhns Chas	W A Thomas Est	1 67
105		Kuhns Jacob	"	1 36
15		Kuhns Peter	"	20
80		Kuhns Solomon	"	1 03

PENN TWP.

100		Cook Wm	A P Morrison	3 59
102	20	Hamilton Thos	John Stoner	2 49
150		Hamilton Thos	Adam Gotschall	7 49
304	89	Kennedy And	"	4 34
46		Kreamer Peter	J H Reifsnyder	1 20
300		Montgomery W	J C Meyer	7 14
76		" Daniel	"	6 66

POTTER TWP.

330		Anderson Jno	Linden Hall Lumber Co	11 02
88		Anderson Jno	Wm Witmer Sons Co	3 01
330		Berger Adam	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	11 02
		Breon Jno	"	10 01
226		Barker John	W Witmer Sons Co	7 11
80		Cameron	Linden Hall Lumber Co	2 67
155		Dewart Wm	"	5 02
155		Ewing Jasper	"	5 02
400		Emerick John	"	13 34
238		Ellis Francis	Wm Witmer Sons Co	7 65
20		Fulmer H B	Geo L Goodhart	66
196		"	Linden Hall Lumber Co	6 67
155		Gettig Christian	"	5 02
150		Gobin Charles	"	5 02
400		Harrison Wm	W C Heinle	6 80
62		Hunter Alex	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	2 19
327		Johnson Alex	W Witmer Sons Co	10 01
132		Samuel W Norton	Wm Witmer & Sons Co	2 31
133		George Fox	"	2 80
197		"	"	3 40
200		Kearney Wharton	"	3 40
400		Levy Daniel	Wm C Heinle	13 34
190		Martin Thomas	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	6 67
83	34	Rapp Jacob	Samuel Brown	1 04
400		Smith Daniel	W P James	13 34
35		Shires & Fulmer	Linden Hall Lumber Co.	1 02
100		Sawyer Wm	"	3 25
400		"	"	13 34
92		Shires John	"	2 95
108	61	Teiley Ferrell	"	3 68
200		Unknown	"	6 67
170		Vandersilce H	"	5 68
75		Unknown	George Bee	2 67
50	16	"	W C Heinle	90
100		Young Samuel	"	1 91

RUSH TWP.

318	153	Allison Andrew	A P Morrison	24 24
52		Bannon James	Chaney & Thompson	3 56
433	153	Britches Isaac	Frank P Blair	27 72
200		Burg John	Wm C Heinle	5 89
100		Copenhaver Jno	"	2 95
250		"	Chas E Allen	1 62
200		"	A P Morrison	5 89
434		Grant Thomas	T C McCausland	27 64
171	152	Grove & McKeon	C E Allen	17 00
431	100	Harris John P	E J Pruner	27 46
433	153	Hamilton Hugh	Wm C Heinle	12 04
¼ of 433	153	Irvin Robert	E M Leifer Est	9 19
¾ of 433	153	"	W A Christ	9 04
167	109	Irvin James T	Wm C Heinle	10 24
396		Joedon Benj	"	11 01
433	163	Malone Richard	F P Blair	27 71
421	21	Moyer John	C P Colyer	62 10
¼ of 433	153	Morgan B R	E M Leifer Est	9 05
¼ of 433	153	Musser John	"	9 05
¾ of 433	153	Morgan D R	W A Christ	9 04
¾ of 433	153	Musser John	"	9 03
433	153	Miller Robert	T J McCausland	27 71
¼ of 433	153	Peters Richard	E M Leifer Est	9 05
¾ of 433	153	"	W A Christ	9 04
177	84	Phil Hardman	A P Morrison	24 26
100		Passmore H & B	W C Heinle	2 78
432	153	Turner James	A P Morrison	12 04
89		Unknown	C E Allen	2 22
4 3	1'3	Welsh James	W C Heinle	55 25
433	153	Wharton Kearney	F P Blair	27 75

SPRING TWP

419		Johnson John	Grove & Smith	27 19
250		Toole Henry	"	16 81
100		W Wilson	John Bilger	3 18
100		"	Wm Bilger	3 18

SNOW SHOE TWP

433	153	Bayard Andrew	W C Heinle	13 85
325		Banks Wm	"	10 38
325		"	"	10 38
4 2		Carscadden	"	13 16
412	44	"	"	25 47
333		Develing Jos	F P Blair	18 77
⅛ of 400		Holt Edgar	J J & C M Bower	12 49
¾ of 400		"	J H Holt	9 35
¾ of 400		"	J Z Long	9 35
250		Hall Peter	E L Orvis	15 61
300		Lewis Lewis	W C Heinle	7 58
450		McLanahan S	"	24 84
484	28	Mitchell W P	J Z Long	11 81
400		Martin Alex	W C Heinle	12 77
433		Norton Joseph	"	13 83
433		Parker George	John C Rowe	27 13
216		Parker J	John G Love	16 86
360		Tim John	W C Heinle	11 49
216	83	Parker J	"	6 79
433		Parker George	"	13 93
360	144	Reiley John	M J Gardner	11 49
216		Rainey Robt	W C Heinle	6 89
163		Tompkins J	Hugh Ward	5 18
400		William David	W C Heinle	12 77

TAYLOR TWP

80		Beck Jacob	A P Morrison	5 47
100		Beck Daniel	"	3 61
58		Bechdol John	W C Heinle	5 42
400		Bell William	A P Morrison	27 95
200		Burg William	W C Heinle	13 89
23		Craig James	Charlds Reese	3 16
433	153	Copenhamer Jno	W C Heinle	15 15
200		Carr James	"	14 42
100		" John	Pittsb'g S & D Co	7 21
434		Hamilton Hugh	R Sims	3 54
25		Louden Chas	W C Heinle	92
434		Montgomery J	"	15 61
434		Montgomery W W	"	15 61
129	160	Norris Morrison	"	9 37
50		Mang George	Pittsb'g S & D Co	3 61
433		Pruner E J	E J Pruner	30 73
200		"	J C Meyer	27 95
25		Rice George	Pitt'g Safe & D Co	1 99
96	142	Shenick John	Saml McCalmont	13 66
433	163	Snyder Barbara	W C Heinle	15 61
438		Thomas J W	C B Thomas	15 78
14		Williams Josh	Pitt'g Safe & D Co	1 00
100		Wilson Wm	W C Heinle	3 61
433		Williams Polly	"	15 61
92		Wallace Thomas	"	9 30
433	153	Williams Josh	"	15 61

UNION TWP

100		Brown Wm	A P Morrison	2 66
433	163	Donnelson Jas	Lehi'Val' Coal Co	11 62
100		Philips Samuel	W C Heinle	2 67
383		Clark Wm	F P Blair	21 67
433	163	Wister Wm	"	23 32
20		Kuhn David	WA Thomas Est	54
10		" Paul	"	27
10		" Richard	"	39
50		" Samuel	"	1 61
40		" Simon	"	1 07

WALKER TWP

92	94	Askers Robt	Agar & Smith	2 54
212	10	Baker John	"	6 62
247	65	Baker Robert	"	6 62
152		Brooks Ruth	"	3 60
125		Furrier Mary	Wm Witmer & or Currier Sons Co.	3 27
152	40	"	"	3 86
60		"	"	1 59
92	40	Robt Askew or Acker or Askers	"	2 54
327	160	W Monsell or Mansell	"	8 71
412	59	Capt. Osman or Beman	"	7 93
111	42	Dougherty M	W C Heinle	1 59
111	42	"	"	1 59
92	26	Eckert Wm	Agar & Smith	2 45
100	39	Evans Jesse	"	2 64
69	39	"	Isaac Markle	1 86
1-5 of 250		Erskine John	Louisa Bush	72
4-5 of 250		"	W B Nat'l Bank	2 88
243	55	Gilbert Wm	Agar & Smith	6 62
211	72	Hahn Peter	"	5 71
65	40	William Hahn	"	2 01
59	40	Johnson David	"	1 59
91	94	Mercer John	"	2 44
327	100	Mercer David	"	8 71
384	26	Miller Wm	"	10 29
86	40	Packer Job	"	2 29
89	40	Packer Jr J	"	2 29
61	126	Rohrer C	Yearick & Stayd	5 65
59		Swanzy Wm	W C Heinle	1 69
382	138	Sutler D	Agar & Smith	10 29
30		Wickersham A	Isaac Markle	80
12		Wilson Robert	Zim'man & Robison	1 33

WORTH TWP

33		Clymer Henry	J T Thompson Est	6 58
250		Gray P B D	W C Heinle	9 81
309		Hawthorn T	J T Thompson	13 14
345		Kuhn John	"	75 65
260		Lawson Geo	"	37 88
330		Mayland Jasp	"	14 45
174		Miles Samuel	"	38 09
86		Ross John	"	18 76
79		Swanswick Jno	"	11 49
6		Slinger John	"	2 09
88		Shippen Wm Jr	"	12 86
100		Unknown	W F Albreght	7 31
137		Wister Daniel	J T Thompson	29 90
30		Wister Wm	"	6 68

TREASURER'S SALE OF SEATED LANDS:—At the same time and place as given in the Treasurer's Sale of Unseated Lands, will be sold the following tracts or lots of lands returned by the tax collector of the following districts respectively, for the years 1902 and 1903, to the Commissioners of Centre county, for the non-payment of taxes, according to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly relative to the sale of seated land for taxes:

MILESBURG BORO.

Description	Owners	Taxes
Lot No. 7	Z D Miles Estate	$27 03

HOWARD TWP.

H and L Lot	J H Bathurst	4 03
	Mary Chatman Est	60
20 Acres	Sarah Daughenbaug	4 03
14 Acres	James Dulen	3 98
230 Acres	Calvin Lucas	5 79
140 Acres	Mary E Moore	27 02
24 Acres	N P Ridder	6 85
½ Acre	Hannah Watkins	1 01
¼ Acre	John Wantz	81
6 Acres	Edward Gardner	46
22 Acres	Lillie V Gardner	2 46

LIBERTY TWP.

¼ Acre	Julia Kunes Est	4 55
¼ Acre	John Weaver	82
½ Acre	Joseph Brothers	2 75
¼ Acre	Roland Lucas Est	1 38

NOTE.

In accordance with the Act of June 6th, 1887, interest will be added to the amount of taxes assessed against unseated lands above described.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All persons corresponding with the Treasurer in reference to land advertised for sale in the above list should remit sufficient to pay postage, stationery and advertising.

The advertising is $1.00 on each tract.

G. W. RUMBERGER, Clerk. FRANK K. WHITE, County Treasurer.

Toe Hill

The most attractive thing in town is Billy and his fox hound.

Birt Stiver purchased a new bicycle recently which is the finest in our town.

Herman Fanders, the practical farmer and also an up-to-date lumberman of this place is talking of purchasing an automobile to farm with.

The boat on lake Toe Hill, was loaded to its fullest capacity on Sunday afternoon.

Toe Hill is one of the up to date pleasure resorts, every thing is reason able even the board can be had for $1.00 per day at Mr. Herman Harm-

Some people are very anxious to know what our town is composed of so we are going to tell you. One practical farmer, one first class tie maker, one poor overseer, one expert turkey hunter, two good marksmen, one land lord, one teamster, also the best looking girls in seven counties.

Joseph Stiver and son was in Tyrone last week Joseph thought he would cheat the R. R. Co so bought a return ticket and walked home.

Samuel Borst, has been making frequent visits to Joseph Stivers for the last five years, we wonder if he won't soon mean business.

W. R. Borst and George Rudy was out of town Sunday something unusual we wonder what the attraction was.

Shot and Killed Woman on Street.

Buffalo, May 3.—John Koryernsky, of Altoona, Pa., enamoured of Mrs. Francis Skrocka, of the same city, and who repulsed his advances, shot and killed her on the street here and then shot himself through the heart. Both died instantly. Mrs. Skrocka with her husband and two children lseft Altoona two weeks ago to avoid the attentions of the murderer.

Bankers to Meet in St. Louis.

New York, May 3.—At a meeting of the executive council of the American Bankers' Association held in this city it was decided to hold the 32d annual convention in St. Louis. A resolution was passed extending the deepest sympathy of the association to the California bankers who suffered in the recent disaster.

COURT PROCLAMATION —— SPECIAL TERM.—Whereas the Honorable Ellis L. Orvis, President Judge of the Court of Common Please of the 49th. district consisting of one County of centre having issued his precpt bearing date the 31st day of March 1906 and to me directed, for holding a special term of Court of Oyer and Terminer, General Jail Delivery, Orphans Court and Quarter Sessions of the Peace in Bellefonte, for the County of Centre and to commence on the First Monday of May, being the 7th. day of May 1906.

Notice is hereby given that all persons summoned as Jurors are hereby notified to attend.

Given under my hand at Bellefonte the 3rd. day of April, 1906 and the one hundredth and thirtieth year of the Independence of the United States.

HENRY KLINE Sheriff.

Executrix Notice.

Estate of Elias Vonada, late of Walker township, Centre county, Pa., Dec'd.

Letters testamentary upon the above estate having been granted to the undersigned all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims to present the same, duly authenticated. CATHERINE JANE VONADA, Executrix, Zion.

4 Rep 6t

Administrator's Notice.

Estate of Mrs. Mary A. Remey, late of Ferguson Township, Centre county, Pa. dec'd.

Letters of administration having been duly granted upon the above estate to the undersigned, all persons being indebted to said estate are requested to make payment and those having claims or demands will make known the same without delay.

W. S. SCHAWL, Administrator.
Pine Grove Mills.

Executors' Notice

Estate of James J. Gaines, late of Burnside Township, Centre Co. Pa., Dec'd.

Letters testamentary upon the above estate having been granted to the undersigned all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims to present the same, duly authenticated, to

T. M. STEVENSON, Lock Haven, Executor.

Not His Tongue.

"I ain't got no doubt," said Hiller, "but what I kin git that there job as consul in that place in England. It'd be a cinch too."

"Oh, yes," replied Peppery, "if you can learn to speak the language."—Philadelphia Press.

Eloquent Stillness.

"What makes you think Bilkins is in love?"

"I was in the next room to him and his girl and overheard one of their silences."—Life.

Forgiveness is better than revenge.—Pittacus.

Kingdon Gould Had Narrow Escape.

New York, May 3.—Kingdon Gould, eldest son of George Gould, had a narrow escape from death when his automobile turned a complete somersault on a curve of the broad turnjike at Manasquan, N. J., 13 miles from his home in Lakewood. Young Gould was thrown 30 feet and barely missed crashing into a telegraph pole

A CHARMING BABY'S BASKET

A Compact Hamper Made With a Camp Stool and Box.

Every young mother loves her baby's surroundings to be dainty and pretty, but unfortunately many a young mother who is not blessed with an abundance of this world's goods is apt to say when one suggests mere prettiness to her, "Yes, I know I should like so and so, but I can't afford it," so poor baby has perhaps to go without a compact basket, where all his requirements are at hand, and to put up with many a wait during dressing because his mother can't remember where she put brushes or safety pins.

Now, no baby need be without a toilet basket, such a one shown in the design only requiring a small outlay in money and the deft touches of clever fingers. The basket itself has as a foundation one of those nice flat cardboard boxes in which gowns are sent home. The inside of the box is first well padded with wadding and the whole afterward covered with silk or mercerized sateen, which in its turn is again covered with white or cream spotted muslin. Any pretty shade of silk can be selected, but choose something bright in order to show up through the muslin. A pretty lace edged frill of muslin must be put all round the box and on no account skimp your frill.

READY FOR COVERING.

The four corners of the box are finished off with ribbon bows or flat rosettes made of silk. Do not forget to make a large pincushion. A triangular one is convenient, as it fits in one corner. A cover for the basket when not in use could be made from a piece of silk covered with muslin to match that on the basket.

The basket is nothing more than an ordinary camp stool. Remove the canvas seat, sandpaper the legs and enamel them the color of the silk which lines and decorates the basket.

THE BASKET COMPLETE.

When quite dry, place the box on it, as shown in the first sketch, and securely nail it on the top bars. This can be done either before or after, but a neater effect is gained when it is put on afterward. Gilt headed nails would not be an eyesore showing on the inside if they were driven in strongly and evenly.

THE BABY.

A Few Questions For His Mother to Answer to Herself.

Are you going to be his mother or only his nurse's mistress?

If you're only going to be his nurse's mistress then you'll have an easy time.

You'll be able to attend lectures, play bridge, go out riding in autos with your fortunate neighbors, attend the matinee and go to evening dinners while baby is being cared for by the ill educated woman who has kindly consented to take him off your hands.

The baby is, after all's said and done, a nursling instead of a "mother's baby."

He'll catch the quaint little ungrammaticisms that nurse lets fall, and he'll never be quite as refined as you are, but you'll really be much freer and you'll find marriage not half the responsibility you understood it was when your mother was talking to you about it.

But if you want to have a really superior sort of boy why not discharge the girl—you can get another just as uneducated at any time—and try bringing him up yourself the way that your mother brought you up?

There won't be as much bridge, and the matinees and evening dinners will most of them go by the board, but you'll have a boy brought up by a woman of refinement, and that's going to bother the boy's chances all through life. Let the girl go this Saturday week.—Philadelphia Press.

A Common Delusion.

One of the commonest of delusions and one of the fatallest is when a man thinks he's in a hurry.

The most rational remedy for Coughs and Colds is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It acts on the bowls as a mild catbartic—expels all cold from the system. Cut all phlegm out of the throat, relieves coughs, cold, croup, whooping-cough, etc. An ideal remedy for children—equally good for adult. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

The American Girl for Mine.

A fine little waltz song and chorus dedicated to the girls of America. It is one which will please you or your girl. (by Wilson and Milburn.) Get a copy from your music dealer or send 10 two cent stamps to Isaac Dolce, Publisher, Indianapolis, Ind.

SAN FRANCISCO HORROR INCIDENTS

Peculiar Things Men Noticed While the Fire Raged.

A JANITOR'S GREWSOME BURDEN

New Yorker Tells of Seeing One Carrying His Dead Wife—Woman Pushing a Sewing Machine Up a Hill—Fat Man Carrying a Huge but Empty Bird Cage.

Among the refugees from San Francisco who arrived in Los Angeles recently were several New York persons, among them Mr. A. Dalrymple, who spoke as follows, says the New York Sun: "There was little panic or fright shown by the crowds of people in the streets after the shock. The first serious incident I recall was a man, with blood streaming from cuts on head and body, carrying a dead woman in his arms. He placed the body on the floor of the court and then told me he had been the janitor of the building next to the Crocker-Woolworth bank. The first he knew of the catastrophe he found himself in the basement of the three story building, his dead wife beside him and all the belongings they had in their room scattered about him, even to the cook stove. The building had simply split in two and thrown him and his wife down the three stories into the cellar.

"There were other sights which I did not think funny at the time, but which appear ridiculous now. During those hours we forgot that there was anything funny in the world. I saw one big fat man, with a nightgown covering his rounded form, calmly walking on upper Market street, carrying a huge bird cage in his arms and the cage was absolutely empty. The man was as self possessed as if he were completely dressed and seemed to enjoy looking at the wrecked buildings.

"Another man was leading a huge Newfoundland dog and carrying a kitten in his arms. He kept talking to the kitten. On Fell street I noticed an old lady, scantily dressed, pushing a sewing machine up the hill. She would progress a little, and then became exhausted and rest. To her task she went again. That sewing machine was her world.

"When I got to the park there was a man toiling in carrying a large carved wooden Japanese statue. That was all he had, and he laid it carefully down on the grass as if it had been his wife or child.

"It seemed as if every person was carrying a phonograph, with the big trumpet tucked under the arm. I never saw so many phonographs in my life. Didn't know there were that many.

"There were two men who had taken two bicycles and, placing them side by side, had put a mattress on top. On the mattress they had a sewing machine and an oil painting. This they were pushing along toward the park.

"I got to Panhandle by evening, and there the soldiers had tents for us. Our group found an eighty-year-old woman, and we gave her shelter. She told me she had owned two buildings south of Market street, and of course they were gone. 'I have not a relative in the world,' she said, 'and now I have nothing to live on.' But that old lady was the most cheerful one in the park. She cracked jokes with us, told stories and laughed at our feeble efforts to make merry.

"'How will I live?' she said when we asked her. 'Well, boys, you see, I haven't got much longer to live, and there are good country farms in California and good people. There's no good worrying. Let's go to sleep.' And she turned over on her mattress and was soon asleep.

"There were all the fine carriages of the rich people driving out to the park, with children on the box by the driver and the people inside with their laps piled high with bedclothes and provisions. There were no rich or poor; we all met on the level of a tent floor, and one was just as rich as the other for the time. When I left, the entire city was wiped out from Fillmore street to the water front."

Sydney P. Harris, composer of music, notably among his pieces being "The Cavalier," came in with the refugees compelled by the soldiers to get down in the huge holes and work, digging out the ruins sufficient to extricate the ovens of the bakeries in order to bake bread for the famished people. "It was terrible," said Mr. Harris. "Sometimes it was impossible to get across the huge fissures that the earthquake had forged in the streets. We had to obtain old planks to walk upon. Some of the breaks in the pavements are eighteen and twenty feet wide, and the bottoms are invisible."

The First Railroad For Haiti.

The government of Haiti has granted to an American company the right to build an important railroad line on that island. This line, which will be a great advantage to the traveling public, for it will eliminate the necessity of getting about by boat, with all the attendant inconveniences, is the most important concession ever granted to foreign-

Your Making Trouble

For yourself when you willfully neglect your teeth. Modern dentistry is practiced at this office in all its branches prices reasonable. W. H. Kochler, dentist, Harris building.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Sprinkle clothes with hot water and whisk broom.

Bran water is thought by some housewives to be the best thing in which to wash fine silk stockings, as soap is apt to make the silk tender.

To remove mud stains from white garments soak the stained portion in oxalic acid, rinse in several waters and finally in ammonia water.

Gutta percha clotheslines are much stronger and last longer than cord. They are not affected by the wet and can be kept absolutely clean with a damp cloth.

When flannel garments must be dried indoors, by all means keep them away from the fire or they will instantly shrink. Hang them in a warm room, but never near the fire.

A little pipeclay dissolved in the water used in washing linen saves a great deal of labor and soap and cleanses the dirtiest linen thoroughly. This method is specially useful where outdoor bleaching is an impossibility.

Room Corners.

Few women realize the decorative possibilities of corners. The result is that even in pretty and artistic rooms the corners are too often left bare, the walls being allowed to meet in hard, straight lines, with nothing to break their monotony. Before attempting to alter this, however, it is well to recognize fully that corner decoration must depend somewhat upon the architectural qualities of the room. When an apartment is small the corners should not be filled up or cut off by placing pieces of furniture diagonally across them, for this only diminishes the apparent size of the room. When the ceiling is low nothing should be put into corners which does not carry the eye beyond its own level. It is, therefore, only in large rooms that we can have absolute freedom in corner decorating.

The Bath.

While the great majority of women have neither the facilities nor the time to take a full bath every day, nearly all can take a sponge bath, which is all that is necessary for cleanliness. A basin, a sponge and a cork mat comprise the essentials, and five minutes' application a day will keep the pores of the skin open and the body in a healthy condition. Some people require more bathing than others. Brunettes as a class and fat people in particular are apt to need more baths and lotions to dispel the secretions and perspiration that defile the skin. In order to live up to the ideal a woman should be exquisitely and habitually clean and rather overstep than fall short of the so called hygienic standard. It is advisable to be suspicious of neatness if necessary in order to perfect it.

DRESS HINTS.

To remove gloss from black garments brush free from dust and sponge with ammonia water.

Don't overdress, but try to suit your dress to your style, and remember that dress makes or mars the woman.

A second gathering thread run just below the first will cause gathers to lay more evenly and will do away with stroking.

Many a dressmaker is blamed for a poor job when the wearer of the costume is alone to blame, in that she is careless about the underwear she puts on with her good dresses.

Glace kid gloves of light color can be satisfactorily cleaned with a paste of flour and gasoline. Apply with a soft cloth to the glove (on the hand), rubbing till quite dry with a clean dry cloth.

Until a girl is really "out" she is not supposed to wear a decollete gown. The waist may be cut out at the neck in either V or round shape, but it is quite unlike the decollete waist of the real ball gown worn by the grownup young lady.

NUGGETS OF NEWS

John Daly, said to be one of the wealthiest gamblers in the country, died in New York after a seven-months' illness.

William A. Brewer, formerly president of the Washington Life Insurance company, was indicted in New York for perjury.

A runaway horse, frightened by an auto, at Atlantic City, N. J., leaped over the go-cart of Miles Barnett's baby without injuring the child.

The mutilated body of Selee Houk, the missing deputy game and fish warden, was found heavily weighted with stones, in the Mahoning river, near Hillsville, Pa.

Christian Lipp, a wealthy retired farmer, near New Danville, Lancaster county, Pa., died in great agony from lockjaw caused by a pitchfork penetrating his foot.

The Case With Him.

Mrs. Henpeck—They can't punish bigamy too severely. No one should have any sympathy for the man who takes one wife too many. Mr. Henpeck—The idea, Maria! Do you think I should be sent to jail?—Philadelphia Press.

—Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

Very Smart

These new, dainty French Miniatures are quite the proper thing at present, three dollars a dozen at The Mallory Studio, Crider's Exchange.

—We sell Ferry's Garden Seeds by the package pint, quart, or bushel. The Potter—Hoy Hardware Co.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.

Neglected Colds Lead to Consumption.

How Pretty Miss Powell Was Restored to Health by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Lillian Powell, Aurora, Ind., writes:

"Last spring I caught a severe cold from getting my feet wet and being out in the rain, and in a day I had a most miserable cold, but I neglected it, thinking it would soon leave me. But it hung to me for two weeks, when I felt something must be done, as my condition was serious.

"I had heard so much about Peruna and in its praise that I bought a bottle and began taking it regularly. I was gratified to find that in a week the cold and cough was broken up, and three weeks' treatment completely restored my usual good health."—Lillian Powell.

How Consumption Develops.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way:

A person catches cold. The cold is not properly cured, and another cold is caught.

This cold is dilly-dallied with, either by no treatment whatever or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then another cold is caught and a cough develops. Cough syrups are resorted to, but they give only temporary relief.

By and by the patient gets tired of taking medicines and cough syrups and gives up in despair.

The cold continues to develop and the cough grows worse.

Then the doctor is called in, only to discover that the patient is in the first stages of consumption.

It was just in this way that Miss Powell, of Aurora, Ind., became sick. She caught a cold, and not considering it serious, neglected it, thinking as many others do, that it would "wear off."

However, it clung to her tenaciously, and in two weeks she found her health in a serious condition.

Fortunately, Peruna had been brought to her notice, and she took a course of this remedy before it was too late.

In a week the cough and cold were broken, and a three weeks' treatment completely restored her to health.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour passes in which some one does not have a similar experience with Peruna.

Cure the Slight Colds and Avoid Consumption.

The first step toward consumption is a cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat, then to the bronchial tubes, and finally into the lungs. It is then consumption in the first stage.

At any time during the progress of catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. If you have taken a cold, buy Peruna without delay. One bottle in the beginning will do more good than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

Thousands of Testimonials.

We have on file thousands of testimonials from people who have been cured of catarrh of the lungs by Peruna. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

Revised Formula. For a number of years requests have come to me from a multitude of greatful friends, urging that Pe-ru-na be given a sight laxative quality. I have been experimenting with a laxative addition for quiet a length of time, and now feel gratified to announce to the friends of Pe ru na that I have incorporated such a quality in the medicine which in my opinion, can only enhance its well-known beneficial character.

"S. B. HARTMAN, M. D."

If you ever bought a box of Witch Hazel Salve that failed to give satisfaction the chances are it did not have the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co." printed on the wrapper and pressed in the box. The original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve never fails to give satisfaction for burns, sores, boils, tetter, cracked hands, etc. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles it affords almost immediate relief. It stops the pain. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

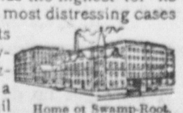
If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y., on every bottle.

—If you propose putting in a new pavement this spring, call on Haupt Bros., who can interest you in prices, workmanship and promptness on Cleveland sawed flag stone, split stone, concrete and granolithic paving, cement block walls, foundations, buildings, &c. D-Imo —Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up. Doan's Regulets cure bilious attacks 25 cents at any drug store.

Homes Desired for Children.

The branch of the Childrens' Aid Society in Centre county has a number of children under twelve years, both boys and girls, whom it would like to place in good homes throughout the county. The majority of these children are boys, some as young as six months. Any persons desiring to take any of these children will please notify, either:

Miss J. E. Natt, or Mrs. J. Thomas Mitchell. Curtin street Bellfeonte, Pa.

The New York World.

The Thrice-a-Week World hopes to be in 1906 a better paper than it has ever been before, and it has made its arrangements accordingly. Its news service covers the entire globe, and it reports everything fully promptly and accurately. It is the only paper, not a daily, and which will keep you as completely informed of what is happening throughout the world.

The Thrice-a-Week World is fair in its political reports. You can get the truth from its colums, whether you are Republican or Democrat, and that is what you want.

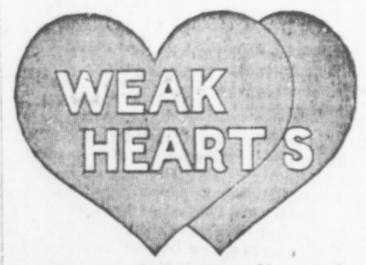
A special feature of the Thrice-a-Week World has always been its serial fiction. It publishes novels by the best authors in the world, novels which in book form sell for $1.50 apiece, and its high standard in this respect will be maintained in the future as in the past.

The Thrice-A-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Bellefonte Republican together for one year for $1.50.

—The surest and safest remedy for kidney and bladder disease is Foley's Kidney Cure. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Seeds that Succeed

This is headquarters for successful garden and flower seeds, we have all the popular varieties which are fresh and vigorous. We sell bulk seeds by the pound or quart as you wish and assure you of their pure, excellent quality, reasonable prices. Have you tried King Midas Flour, its a wonder. John Meese.



are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.
D. KAUBLE, Nevada, O.

Digests What You Eat

Dollar bottle holds 2½ times as much as the trial, or 50 cent size. Prepared at the Laboratory of E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Green's Pharmacy

MADAME DEAN'S FRENCH FEMALE PILLS.

A Safe, Certain Relief for Suppressed Menstruation. NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL. Safe! Sure! Speedy! Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded. Sent prepaid for $1.00 per box. Will send them on trial, to be paid for when relieved. Samples Free. If your druggist does not have them send your orders to the UNITED MEDICAL CO., BOX 74, LANCASTER, PA.

For sale by C. M Parrish

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
Cures Colds; Prevents Pneumonia
Green's Pharmacy.

SAN FRANCISCO AGAIN SHOCKED.

Lasted About A Minute and Caused Considerable Alarm.

1 PERSON WAS KILLED

A Number of Walls Were Thrown Down and Frail Building Shaken.

THE FOOD COMMITTEE'S BUSY TIME

San Francisco, April 29. At 3:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon a shock of earthquake was felt. It lasted nearly a minute and caused considerable alarm, and one woman was killed. A number of walls of burned buildings which were standing Tuesday were thrown down and frail buildings were considerably shaken up, but the damage was slight.

The shock was also felt in Oakland and Berkeley, but in those places it was very slight and of brief duration.

The earthquake caused the death of Mrs. Annie Whitaker, aged 25 years. Mrs. Whitaker was at work in the kitchen of her home on Shotwell street, in the Mission district, when the shock came. The chimney which had been left in a tottering condition by the quake of last Wednesday, crashed through the roof on the woman and fractured her skull. Her body was taken to the morgue at Portsmouth square and buried an hour later at Laurel Hill cemetery. This was a day of optimistic reports from all sides.

"Conditions improving" was the happy expression from those who have charge of caring for their less fortunate fellow townsmen during the last few days.

In fact, now that the most important duty will hereafter be performed by the United States army, that of distributing the food and supplies, which have been given lavishly, the citizens of San Francisco have turned their attention to details for the reconstruction of their business.

There will be resumption of business to an astonishing extent, considering conditions throughout the residential quarter. Retail stores were instructed to reopen and the municipal government has established a scale of prices for the most important commodities, which is even below that during normal conditions.

The preparation of the morning and the evening meals, for San Francisco, as a rule does not partake of more than that number at present is a picturesque sight. In front of every house there is a small, improvised furnace heating stove, on which the food is prepared.

San Francisco goes to bed at night fall. While the extremely rigid rule concerning lights in houses has been modified, still the general situation is considered by the average citizen to be so unsafe at night that he retires, and in many cases without showing a light in his house. Many reports have been made during the last few days of shots fired into houses that showed a light, and few are disposed to taken chances.

The water supply is still a serious problem. It was decided today that still further restrictions should be put on the use of what is now available.

The state militia has now been withdrawn, notwithstanding the requests from the mayor and from the citizens' committee.

The president's proclamation issued today has had a cheering effect. The local finance committee and the Red Cross are acting together and the work of relief is conducted in a systematic manner. A force of expert accountants have been, engaged in auditing and supervising committees appointed and every dollar contributed will be accounted for.

The San Francisco labor council, on behalf of its 196 affiliated unions, has announced that wages will remain the same as before the fire.

Are You Drinking,

We want you to get in the habit of using Woods celebrated coffees, they have a quality and favor that beats them all. The Gilt Edge for people who have an educated taste and require the real thing. Its surprisingly delightful. Sold only at The New Grocery—E. T. Rosn.

—Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

What good does it do you to eat if your stomach fails to digest the food? None. It does you harm—causes belching, sour stomach, flatulence etc. When the stomach fails a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after each meal will digest what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Green's Pharmacy.

—"I suffered habitually from constipation, Doan's Regulet's relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. D. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex

Do Not Gossip.

Two "bunnies" paused the other day,
To gossip long in idle way.

They chided faults in other folks,
And railed at friends with silly jokes.

So fast their tongues wagged on ahead,
It drowned the noise of hunter's tread.

Just then they looked, but 'twas too late;
The hunter's gun had sealed their fate.

Now all, whose ears to gossip bend,
Should heed the prattling "bunnies" end.

They talked and failed "to mind their eye,"
And now they're in the rabbit pie.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

A letter just received from the International committee states that the $400,000 building of the San Francisco association was destroyed. The committee requests contributions to support an emergency work among the young men of this stricken city. Contributions will be received at the local Y. M. C. A. for this purpose.

Since the Y. M. C. A. building was opened in February over 300 men and boys have been taken into membership, the association now having a membership of 350. A total of 11,250 visits have been made to the building. 1500 visits have been made to the gymnasium for exercise 5450 games have been rolled on the bowling alleys. Nearly 2000 baths have been taken and a like interest given to all other privileges. Several good games of basket ball have been played, seven bowling tournaments and contests, together with a checker tournament.

All of this interest has been centered about a building almost bare of furnishings.

The local association has already demonstrated the fact that its rooms may be made a popular resort for young men and that the preventative work, that it will do in their behalf is of great value to the community. Of course it is thoroughly understood, that the Young Men's Christian Association aims to present to young men the example precepts and teachings of "The Man," Christ Jesus. Bible classes and gospel meetings are being carefully planned and with this work in view, an invitation has been sent to Harry L. Williams, Y. M. C. A. State Religious Department Secretary, to visit our association in the near future to conduct a leader's conference.

Fish Hatchery Notes.

Mr. Harry I. Griffith and D. W. Houser of the Bellefonte Fish Hatchery left Saturday for Torresdale to assist W. H. Safford in the collection of Shad eggs on the Delaware River.

The new frog pond has been completed and two consignment of eggs have already been placed in it. The Hatchery intends to make a specialty of frog culture.

Several ponds have already been prepared for the reception of a consignment of pike, which is expected. The raising of pike will add another attractive feature to this already interesting place.

Quite a large crowd of Bellefonte people visited the Fish Hatchery Sunday.

Stakes have already been placed around the grounds, marking off drives etc. Superintendent Buller has ordered about 300 young trees which will be planted on the surroundings. This year the work of pond-building will be relinquished and that of grading the grounds and beautifying the surrounding will be given attention.

Complied With Rules.

In accordance with the party rules, I hereby publish and certify the following persons have complied with the rules regulating announcements and registration in Centre county, and that they and they only are eligible to be voted for, for the offices named, viz:

For the office of Member of Legislature: C. T. Fryberger, Philipsburg, Pa. John A. Daley, Curtin township, Pa.

For the office of Jury Commissioner: C. H. Gramley, Miles township, Pa. Theophilas Pletcher, Howard township, Pa.

For Centre county instructions for Congress: Hon. John G. Love, Bellefonte, Pa.

For Centre county instructions for Senate: Hon P. E. Womelsdorf, Philipsburg, Pa. Henry C. Quigley, Bellefonte, Pa.

Very respectfully,
HENRY C. QUIGLEY,
Chairman Republican Co. Com.

For Over Sixty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cure wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by all druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" and take on other kind.

—A specific for pain—Dr. Thoma Electric Oil, strongest, cheapest, liniment ever devised. A household remedy in America for 25 years.

Get SCOTT'S Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

Send for free sample

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists
409-415 Pearl Street, New York
50c. and $1.00. All druggists

KENTUCKY GIRL'S IDEA.

Her Suggestion For Homecoming Week Adopted by Louisville Club.

Who suggested homecoming week?

As the reunion of all Kentuckians draws nearer and the magnitude of the undertaking becomes more and more apparent, this question constantly recurs, and the answer is—Miss Louise Leé Hardin, says the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Miss Hardin is one of Kentucky's daughters whose brains and energy have made her one of the most prominent club women in the United States. She is at the head of several women's organizations, is the editor of a progressive monthly magazine and is vice president of the Kentucky Society of Denver, which is now her home.

It was during the early part of July, 1905, that Miss Hardin, then on a visit to Louisville, called up R. E. Hughes, secretary of the Commercial club, and suggested homecoming week. It was her first visit to Kentucky for a long time, and so overjoyed was she to be back to her old Kentucky home, so pleasant did she find the renewal of its associations, that she could not resist the desire to do something to bring the other Kentuckians back for a few days at least.

When she called up the Commercial club Miss Hardin explained her reasons for calling Mr. Hughes and asked if the Commercial club would not undertake to arrange a meet of distinguished Kentuckians who had won fame and fortune outside of its borders. Mr. Hughes suggested that the invitation be more general and, being much impressed with the idea, requested Miss Hardin to write a letter which could be read to the directors of the club setting forth her plans in order that it might be formally acted upon by the club.

Mental Poise and Health.

People who reach extreme old age are, as a rule, pretty well balanced physically and mentally. A poised life is serene, and serenity and harmony tend to longevity. The mind that is not well balanced is constantly jangled and out of tune. There is a constant jarring which racks the whole human machinery. There is discord in an unbalanced life, and discord is always destructive—deadly. The well poised, dignified life is not thrown off its center quickly. The man who goes all to pieces over trifles is one sided. There is a momentum in a poised, balanced nature which steadies its progress and helps hold it on its chosen track.

Hot temper, constant mental confusion and disorder are vitality sappers—life shorteners.—Success Magazine.

The Natural Way.

A philanthropic person heard of a negro family that was reported in destitute circumstances, and, calling at their domicile, he found the report true. The family consisted of the mother, a son nearing manhood's estate and two young children. The benevolent old gentleman after hearing the mother's story gave her eldest son $1 to get a chicken for the Thanksgiving dinner and took his departure. No sooner was he gone than the negress said to her son, "Sambo, you done gib me dat dollah and go get dat chicken in de natchral way!"—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Clears the Complexion.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the complexion of pimples and blotches. It is the best laxative for women and children as it is mild and pleasant, and does not gripe or sicken. Orino is much superior to pills, aperient waters and all ordinary cathartics as it does not irritate the stomach and bowels. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

—Don't use harsh physics. The reaction weakens the bowels, leads to chronic constipation. Get Doan's Regulets. They operate easily, tone the stomach, cures constipation.

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement.

Robt. J. Miller, Proprietor of the Read House Drug Store of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in Foley's Honey and Tar than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than all other cough syrups combined." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

CONSTITUTION NEEDS REVISION

The Senate and Judiciary Control the Government.

Philadelphia, April 28.—Chief Justice Walter Slark, of North Carolina, was the guest of honor at a reception tendered him by the alumni of the law department of the University of Pennsylvania. The chief justice made an address, in which he took for his subject the revision of the Constitution of the United States. He held that the constitution was as much in need of revision as the original constitutions of the individual states, most of which have been revised. He maintained that the controlling power in the government is the senate and the judiciary, neither of which is elected by the people.

"The senate should be made elective," he said, "by the people, and in the presidential elections the electoral vote of each state should be divided pro rata according to the popular vote, in order to destroy the system of 'pivotal' states. It would not do to elect the president by ballot, per capita, from the whole Union as one district, as in that case fraud at every ballot box would become material and civil war would follow."

He maintained that the supreme court of the United States should not be vested with the power of declaring acts of congress unconstitutional unless the members of that cour are elected by popular vote and for a term of years.

CANNON AND PRESIDENTIAL BEE

Speaker of House Says It Is Not Buzzing About His Head.

Washington, April 28.—In conversation Speaker Cannon let drop a few sentences of philosophy on presidential booms and bees which make interesting reading. The discussion was anything but an official statement, but the speaker afterward consented to have quotation marks enclose what he had said.

"The presidency is not to be had for the asking," he began. "It would be ridiculous for any man to bob up and decline what had not been offered to him, especially an office which no man ever has, possibly never will, decline if offered by the authority of one of the great political parties of the country. So far as I am concerned, I would rather do my duty here as speaker of the house and help work out policies to bring the greatest good to the greatest number of our people than to be president.

"The campaign to come next fall must be a united effort on the part of all Republicans, and there must not be injected into it the personal ambitions of any man. We must not only elect the next house, but we must conclude the next session of this congress in a manner satisfactory to a majority of the people. The presidential bee is not buzzing in my head or about my ears, and I do not expect to be afflicted with the buzzing of that insect."

USED MAILS TO DEFRAUD

Girl Fleeced Business Men Under Promise of Marriage.

Harrisburg, April 28.—Deputy United States Marshal Lapp, of this city, arrested Miss Edna Kirk, at Lewistown, Mifflin county, on a charge of using the United States mails for the purpose of fleecing business men under the promise of marriage. Lapp at the same time arrested Samuel Richards, a former postmaster of Maitland, Mifflin county, on a charge of sending a bill for $9.60 on a postal card. The alleged offenders will be tried in the United States court here on May 7.

Christie Breaks a Record.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 28.—Walter Christie broke the world's mile record for a four-cylinder car, reducing the figures from 38 seconds to 35 1-5, making it the fastest mile ever run in this country outside of the Ormond, Fla., track. The best mile made at Ormond was 28 seconds, with an eight cylinder car. There was another large crowd on the South Ventnor beach, and it was well repaid by the excellent races that were run off.

Two Ways to Prosper.

Two kinds of business men are bound to succeed. We refer to the man who knows how to advertise and to the one who knows that he does not know, but knows enough to get one who does know to write and place his advertisements for him.—Troy Press.

Piling It On.

"Our minister does have the hardest luck. Just think, the baby's down with the croup, Albert broke his collar bone last week, their horse died yesterday, and now Mrs. Rector has pneumonia."

"I suppose that by and by, on top of all that, some fool will get them up a donation party."—Woman's Home Companion.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

for children; safe, sure. No opiates

At all Drug Store.

Extract Wood.

On and after Jan. 15, 1906, we will pay $3.00 per cord for chestnut and rock oak wood cut according to our specifications in 4 foot lengths of 128 cubic feet; and $3.75 per cord for same kind of wood; cut in 5 foot lengths of 160 cublic feet.

All wood to be delivered f. o. b. cars on Pennsylvania or any of its branches with-in 150 miles west of Newport; also on Huntingdon & Broad Top Railroad as far as Bard on the Penn'a Railroad and on the Dunning Creek Branch as far as Imler.

H. A. MOORE,
Manager.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co. doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

(SEAL) A. W. GLEASON
NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken inter ally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

ODD AUTO BED DESIGN.

Indiana Student Rides on Seven Headed, Ten Horned Leopard.

In the building of the bed of his automobile that Benjamin Lukens of Anderson, Ind., has brought out for the season he cast aside all the customary styles of the front, end or dashboard of the machine bed and substituted it with a combination animal that he whittled out after getting the suggestion from the vision of John on the Isle of Patmos, as told in the thirteenth chapter of Revelations, as follows, says a special dispatch from Anderson, Ind., to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch:

"And I stood upon the sand of the sea and saw a beast rise up out of the sea having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of Blasphemy. And the beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion."

Mr. Lukens carved out the wooden form of a leopard and had it spotted leopard fashion. He surmounted it with seven heads of strange animals, arranged in a circle. Ten horns act as the back of a chair, and the crowns are on the guard rail of a chair which is intended for Mr. Lukens' dog. The new machine is painted a bright yellow except for the combination animal front, which is in brown, yellow and black.

Mr. Lukens is a Bible student of more than local celebrity.

Perils of the Climbers.

While climbing in the New Zealand Alps a man of the name of Low slipped on a snow couloir and fell till he struck a rock, dislocating an ankle and lacerating a knee. For four days he crawled over broken ice and moraine, half the time in a severe snowstorm, and at last made a bivouac under the shelter of a rock. He lived ten days on one day's food. He was then rescued.

No More French Brier.

From Bordeaux, France, United States Consul Murphy reports that the supply of what is known as French brier root is practically exhausted. The product, which formerly came from the department of the Landes and from near the frontier in the Pyrenees, is now obtained in Scotland exclusively. The pipes are manufactured at St. Claude.

Domestic Finance.

Mrs. Knicker—Can you get money from your husband? Mrs. Bocker—No. By the time I've paid the cook for a good dinner before I ask him I'm just even.—Harper's Bazar.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED,

Some Bellefonte People Have Learned How To Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them.

And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure kidney ache.

It the kidneys are well and strong the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys.

Mrs. Nancy Davis, of 246 East Logan Street, says: "I suffered a bad fall some years ago when living in Rochester. I thought at first that I had broken my back. I was unable to get up without assistance and from that time I suffered for years with a weak back and excruciating pains through the loins and through the small of my back. Sometimes I was completely prostrated and helpless. Doctors and medicines failed to help me and the pain continued until I got Doan's Kidney Pills. I took only a few doses before I began to feel better and when I had continued using them for a while I was thoroughly cured. My back regained its strength and the pain left me. I have had no return of the trouble since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

—Feel languid, weak, run-down, Headache? Stomach "off"?—Just a plain case of lazy liver: Burdock Blood Bitters tones liver and stomach, promotes digestion, purifies the blood.

'WARREN" TO HAVE TOMBSTONE.

Fund Increasing, Many Signify their Intention of Helping Along.

The Republican opens up its columns for a subscription for that purpose and hopes that those who knew him and the singular place he held in the community will help in this effort to keep this memory green a little longer, that the boys when they grow up can point to his tombstone and say "I remember him" and tell their stories of his ways and wonderful memory of all who ever lived in Bellefonte, and was recognized as a friend of everybody.

Daniel Garman	$5 00
Rev. George L. Browne	1.00
Friend	1.00
Edward T. Tuten	1.00
Earle C. Tuten.	1.00
Friend	1 00
C. T. Gerberich	1 00
W. C Lingle, Patton, Pa.	2 00
C. F. Montgomery	1 00
Mrs. C F "	1 00
Wm. P Humes	1 00
Edward C. Beezer, Clarence	1 00
John P. Harris	1 00
J. R. Hughes,	1 00
Mrs J E Huffman, Wmsport	1 00
John M. Shugert	2 00
James B Lane	1 00
Mrs N H Stone, Coatesville	2 00
H C Brew, Pittsburg	1 00
Mrs John P. Harris	1 00
Mrs. Dan'l Showers	.25
Mrs Annie Dawson, Phila.	.25
Claude Dawson, Phila.	10
Harry Dawson, Phila.	.10
Mrs David Haines	10

PRESCRIPTION FOR INDIGESTION

How Scores of Bellefonte People Obtain Relief.

If it really were known how many Bellefonte residents have been cured of stomach trouble and digestion by Dr. Davis' Prescription, it might perhaps surprise you, but what is more surprising is the fact that any one will continue to suffer with heart burn, sour stomach, water brash, sick headache, mental depression, nausea, and other distressing symptoms of dyspepsia when there is a remedy of such great merit that it almost invariably benefits every one that tries it. Pepsicola Tablets are the prescription of Dr. Davis, a physician who devoted a lifetime to the study of stomach trouble, and if your food does not agree with you, if you are tired, nervous, worn out, low spirited and your energy at low par, it may interest you to know that no other prescription in this world has a greater record of cures behind it, and there is nothing more certain to give you relief. Mr. C. M. Parrish will tell you that although Pepsikola is sold on the fairest kind of a money back plan, not more than two in one hundred ever come back for their money. This is the surest evidence of its marvelous curative properties, but so that there may not be the least doubt in your mind as to what Pepsikola will do for you, Mr. Parrish will hand your quarter right back to you if you should fail to receive the benefit you look for.

—Itching, torturing skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy, drive one wild. Doans Ointment brings quick relief and lasting cures. Fifty cents at any drug store.

—Regulates the bowels, promotes easy natural movements, cures constipation—Doan's Regulets. Ask your druggist for them. 25 cents a box.

—For any pain, from top to toe, from any cause, apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectric oil. Pain can't stay where it is used.

Don't tie a cough or a cold up in your system by taking a remedy that binds the bowels. Take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar, It is different from all others cough syrups. It is better. It opens the the bowels—expels all cold croup, whooping cough, ect. An ideal remedy for young and old. Children like it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Pneumonia is Robbed of Its Terrors by Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the racking cough and heals and strengthens the lungs. If taken in time it will prevent an attack of pneumonia. Refuse substitutes. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorenci, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Living indoors so much during the winter months creates a sort of stuffy, want of ozone condition in the blood and system generally. Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. The famous little pills cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels and give the blood a chance to purify itself. The relieve headache, sallow complexion, ect.

Sold by Green's Pharmacy,

—Foley's Kidney Cure makes kidneys and bladder right. Don't delay taking. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

—Impure blood runs you down—makes you an easy victim for organic diseases. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood—cures the cause—builds you up.

The Bellefonte Republican

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—No communication published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.
Correspondents should write uponbut one side of the paper. and avoid the use of pale or fancy inks.
EDWARD T. TUTEN.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—A Dwelling for rent Inquire of Miss Ammerman, 21 West Bishop Street.

—Don't forget to see the corset demonstrator at Katz & Co. all of next week.

—The funeral of Lewis Miller will take place from the Forge church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Lawn Grass Seed by the pound and Garden Seeds in bulk at the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co.

—The Holy Communion services in Zion Reformed church will be postponed until Sunday afternoon May 13, at 2.30.

—A 17-year-old negro boy was lynched by a mob at Oakwoods, Tex., for assaulting a white woman.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Lucas of Half Moon Hill are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby girl.

—The Standard Oil company has advanced the price of crude petroleum three cents a barrel east and two cents west.

—On account of the increased trade on the C. R. R. of Pa., this company have leased a N. Y. C. & H. R. R. engine No. 3608.

—The supper given by the ladies of the Methodist church Thursday evening, was well attended and a nice sum realized.

—Professor John Knoles Paine, director of the musical department of Harvard University, died, suddenly at Cambridge, Mass., of pneumonia.

—The old Cunningham foundry is being put in shape by J. H. Lingle who will operate it in connection with his own extensive business.

—The Central District Fireman's Convention will meet in Bellefonte, August 22nd and 23rd. Capt. H. S. Taylor will be chief marshal of the occasion.

—Ashbridge Thomas youngest son of Mr Clifford Thomas, of Thomas street broke his arm while wrestling Mon. morning at the Academy.

—The State College base ball squad, under Coach Golden, left Thursday, for Ithaca, N. Y., where they play Cornell Saturday.

—Postmaster W. W. Montgomery and family are moving this week from their present location on Allegheny street to the old Montgomery homestead on the same street.

—Superintendent of the water, Samuel Ryan, is busy engaged in shutting off the water from the property of all water tax delinquents —Usual services will be held in St. John's Reformed church next Sunday moaning and evening.

—Substitute Mail carrier Garthoff, is working in place of carrier Woods, today. Mr. Woods is suffering with the toothache.

—One of the leading society events of the season, was the marriage at noon Tuesday, of Miss Mary Blanche Cook, of Bellefonte, and Mr. John H. Gibson, of Philadelphia.

—Fred Dubler, 12 year old son of Fred Dubler, Sr. of Beech Creek, was instantly killed at Farrandsville Saturday, by being struck by the Buffalo Flyer. He was visiting his Grandmother, who had sent him on an errand.

—The subscriptions for the Warren Burnside tombstone, have been turned over to the committee in charge, whose intention is to have the stone placed in position for Decoration day.

—Wilbur T. Twitmire, who recently underwent an operation at the Bellefonte Hospital, for blood poisoning has been discharged from that institution and is greeting his many friends upon the streets again.

—On Saturday afternoon an interesting game of base ball is promised between the Academy team and Dickinson Seminary to be played on the Glass Works meadow. Game called at 3 o'clock sharp. Admission 25cents.

—Miss Jenkins one of the nurses at the hospital who underwent an operation for an infected toe nail last Tuesday is getting along nicely, but not able to be around as yet, we trust she will fully recover shortly.

—Cornell University, won from State College in a sixteen inning game at Ithaca N. Y., Saturday by the score of 2-1.

—State College Reserves defeated the Bellefonte Academy at State College Saturday. The score

State—2-0-4-1-1-0-3-0-x—11
Academy—2-0-0-0-0-0-2-2-0-0-6—

—Mr. J. Harris Hoy has purchased the Howard Creamery Store from W. Gross Mingle and will conduct same in the future.

—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gray are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing aby boy at their home on Sunday evening.

—A metallic ceiling is being placed on the Drug Store of F. P. Green.

—Norman Myers moved from Lamb street Thursday, to a house in Beaver Row.

—The Bellefonte Academy Base Ball team played the State College Scrub Saturday afternoon at State College.

—A tank of gasoline exploded in the round house of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad company at WilkesBarre, Pa., and five locomotives were badly damaged.

—The body of John Flannery, an engineer on the New Jersey Central railroad, who disappeared from WilkesBarre, Pa., six weeks ago, was found in the Susquehannah river.

—Russell Stoner the young and accommodating warehouse man at the C. R. R. station is so much pleased with Bellefonte (and the young ladies of the city) that he thinks he will never go back to Salona.

—An Italian employed as a section hand on Himes' division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was struck and instantly killed; near Ryde station, by a fast freight almost noon last Wednesday. The body was buried in McVeytown cemetery at the expense of the victim's countrymen.

Married—At Altoona, Pa., on the 25th day of April, Harry J. Yearick and Miss Maude Woomer, both of Bellefonte, were united in holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. John D. Hicks. The groom is a machinist by trade while the bride was an operator in the Commercial Telephone Exchange at this place.

—Governor Pennypacker Monday reappointed David Martin to be Insurance Commissioner for a term of three years. Mr. Martin was originally appointed for the unexpired term of Israel W. Durham last July.

—Every lady in Bellefonte remembers what a success Katz's millinery openings are Their corset demonstrator next week will prove still a greater success.

—Mrs. G. Stanley West wife of Rev. G. Stanley West who for five years was located as pastor of the Baptist Church at Blanchard, now of Newberry, is critically ill with a severe attack of appendicitis, at her home in Newberry, her many friends through the county especially of Blanchard are hoping for her speedy recovery, Dr. Bell of the Williamsport hospital is in attendance.

—The 2nd Annual District S. S. Convention of Union and Boggs townships and Milesburg Borough will be held in the Baptish Church at Milesburg, on Thursday May 17th. There will be two sessions, one beginning at 9:30 a. m., and the other at 1 o'clock p. m. A good program is arranged and it is desired that there be a large attendance from all the schools of the district.

—Mrs. Edith Wells Scott died at the home of her son, Rev. John T. Scott, at Frankfort Springs, Pa. on Thursday evening April 26th. after an illness of four months, and was buried at Richmond, Ohio, Saturday afternoon, Rev. Scott was for some years pastor of the Bald Eagle and Buffalo Run Presbyterian churches during which time his mother made her home with him in Bellefonte.

—A very pretty wedding was celebrated in St. John's Episcopal church Tuesday evening at 6 30, when Miss Mary Reidy, became the bride of Mr. John Armstrong. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George I. Browne former pastor of the church. The bridesmaid was Miss Cora Sholl, and Mr Fern Reidy of Lewistown acted as best man. The bride is an estimable young lady, while the groom is an industrious and energetic young man. They will go to housekeeping in rooms in the Hibler home on Allegheny street.

—Walter John, son of J. H. and Sarah E. Robinson, died at their home, in Tyrone Saturday morning at 6 o'clock from pneumonia Born at Port Matilda November 12, 1901, the little boy was aged 4 years, 5 months and 16 days. The family has resided in Tyrone for the past year. Surviving are the parents, one brother and two sisters. The funeral took place Monday the cortege leaving on the 12.25 train for Port Matilda where services in the Methodist church was conducted by Rev. J. B. Durkee. Interment at Port Matilda.

—The 37th Annual Convention of the Centre County Sunday School Association will begin at 2 p. m. on May 31st in the M. E. church, Howard. Among the speakers from a distance we note Miss Ermina C. Lincoln, the State Primary Superintendent of Philadelphia, Rev. C. W. Irwin, the State Field Worker of W. Middlesex, Pa., and Rev. W. L. DeGroff Superintendent of the Home District of the American S. S. Union, of Philadelphia. A most excellent program is assured. Reports from the schools are coming in slowly. We hope all will respond not later than May 15th with a full report and an offering for County work. Programs will be sent out about May 15th. A. C. Lathrop, Secy.

—Chief [illegible] issued Tuesday, and the new $1000 license ordinance passed all previous records for May 1. The total was 471, giving the city a revenue from that source approximating $247,000.

—Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes entertained a party of twenty or more ladies at the supper given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church in the lecture room Thursday night.

—G. W. Ball & Co., of Bellefonte have opened a branch Phonograph Store at Tyrone. Mr. Fred Chambers will be in charge.

—Judge C. A. Mayor of Lock Haven underwent a serious operation in one of the Philadelphia hospitals Thursday Owing to the Judge's advance aged and the serious nature of his disease considerable alarm as to the result is felt among his many friends.

—Last week a party of ten went up Spring Creek to fish while they were casting their lines out upon the troubled waters one young lady fell into the deep blue sea. She says no one knows any thing about it, but that is no reason why she ate all the lemon pie they had for lunch on this particular fishing excursion.

—John Thompson, the young man who had his left leg injured in a railroad accident near Pittsburg last winter and submitted to amputation, arrived home on Tuesday morning and handles himself nicely with crutches. Joseph his younger brother some years ago lost his left leg in a railroad accident. It is a remarkable coincidence in the same family and truely an unfortunate one.

—The many friends here of Dr and Mrs. J. W. Coolidge, who now live at Palo Alto, California, will be glad to learn that they escaped injury during the recent earthquake, although they were compelled to spend several nights out of doors. Mrs. Coolidge is a sister of Mrs. S. D. Ray and Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer of this place.

—One day as a train from the East pulled up at a little station of a most depressing town in the fever-and-ague district of Arkansas, a passenger, thrusting his head out of a car window asked of a dejected-looking citizen who was leaning against the station door: "Tell me, what do you call this dried-up, dreary, God forsaken place?" "That's near enough, stranger," replied the native in a melancholy voice, "let it go at that."

—The death of Maj. Henry C. Greenawalt, at Fayetteville, will change the plans of State Treasurer-elect W. H. Berry, when he takes office on May 7. Maj. Greenawalt was one of the oldest employes of the treasury who was to have been retained. He had been connected with that department since 1880. At the time of his death he was the last of the old Cameron guard to hold office on Capitol hill. He was 76 years old and became ill two weeks ago.

—Architect Robert T. Cole has completed plans for the new chapel to be built by the St. John's Reformed congregation in this place, on the lot in the rear of the church with a connecting door. The building will be 43x47 feet in size and is to be built of stone. The entrance will be from Spring street. The main audience room will be about 30x30 feet in size, with an infant room, two class rooms and a ladies' parlor on the ground floor. A spacious gallery will extent around two sides of the building. Work on the same will be begun early this summer.

—A frightful accident was witnessed by a number of people Monday morning at Curwensville. While delirious with pain from a long continued illness, Mrs. H. J. Barrett, wife of the principal of the Curwensville schools, crawled out of her bed room window in her night clothes to a small porch. She clung to it for some time, but fell to the brick pavement, some twenty feet below, striking her head on the walk with terrific force. One of the first persons to witness her position ran into the house and attempted to catch her, but reached the window a moment too late. Mrs. Barrett is lying in an unconscious condition and while no bones were broken her head was badly cut and her already weakened condition owing to her long illness makes her recovery extremely doubtful.

Death of Mary McMullen.

Mary the 17 year old daughter of Mrs. Frank McMullen died Sat. morning at the Bellefonte Hospital. Her death was due to spinal meningitis superinduced by an attack of measles. She was a very bright and attractive young lady, and leaves to mourn her sad and untimely death, her mother Mrs. Frank McMullen of Thomas street, and a number of brothers and sisters who have the sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 1:15. Services in the Evangelical church conducted by Rev Cox. Interment in Advent cemetery.

—See the 7½c gingham Garmans
See the 7½c gingham Garmans
See the 7½c gingham Garmans
See the 7½c gingham Garmans

Are You Drinking,

We want you to get in the habit of using Woods celebrated coffees, they have a quality and favor that beats them all. The Gilt Edge for people who have an educated taste and require the real thing. Its surprisingly delightful. Sold only at The New Grocery—E. T. Rees.

"The Thespians."

The State College dramatic club "The Thespians" in the farce comedy "Facing the Music" was greeted by a large and appreciative audience at Garmans Opera House last night. The play was one of the best amateur productions ever seen here, each and every one took his part unusually well, but special mention should be made of Partridge, '07 and Diehl '06, also Romig '07 who took a lady's part.

The cast of characters was as follows:

The Rev. John Smith.....J. C. B. Rhads, '09
John Smith.....Philip Payne Partridge, '07.
Dick Desmond.....Emory Luther Diehl, '06.
Col. Duncan Smith.....George McGee.
Sergeant Duffell...Ellsworth C. Dunkle, '07.
Mabel.....Cornell H. Cordle, '06
Nora.....John Stuart Romig, '07.
Miss Fotheringay.....Arthur M. Clay.
Mrs. Ponting.....Walter A. Newton '07.

Sheckler—Wallace.

An interesting wedding occurred at the Baptist parsonage, Milesburg, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when pastor A. C. Lathrope spoke the words which joined in the bonds of holy matrimony, Charles Sheckler and Nellie B. Wallace. Both are well known and highly esteemed young people of Milesburg, and have many friends, who will rejoice with them in this happy event. We join with others in congratulations.

New Hotel Opened.

The new hotel under the name of "The Nittany Inn" at State College opened for business last week and under the management of W. H. Housell. The public is assured that pleasant accommodations, courteous treatment and a first-class menu will always be found at this new house. This hotel was a pressing need for that place.

Going to Quit

Selling Stetsons shoes, they are too expensive, we have quite a large assortment of them, regular five dollar quality, and today we have marked them down to $3.98 all new, goods and popular styles. Hurry up, they will go like hot cakes at this price $3.98. Its an opportunity you don't frequently find to get well shod for little money. Yeager & Davis.

—Curtain goods Garmans
Curtain goods Garmans
Curtain goods Garmans
Curtain goods Garmans

A New Arrival

John P. Lyon has recently received a new 1906 F. model, Buick touring car, one of the finest moderate priced cars in the market, it is equipped with double opposed moter 22-28 H. P., seats five passengers, with a speed of 40 miles per hour, he wishes to announce his willingness to demonstrate this car to interested parties. Arcade Building.

Now's the Time.

This is the appointed time to take care of your roofing, eave troughs and exterior trimmings we do such work in a most satisfactory manner and at prices that are consistant with first class work. Let us know your wants. A. E. Schad, Sanitary plumbing, Heating plants, 20 North Allegheny St.

Mr. Horseman

Let us show you some good, light driving harness at prices that will surprise you. Headquarters for everything in horse furnishing; good general repairing. Come in today. James C. Wian.

Don't

Wash your blankets or lace curtains at home. We are specially prepared for such work and we do it beautifully and at prices that will please you. The City Steam Laundry—phone us—and the wagon will call.

A horrible accident occurred at the Nittany Furnace Wed. morning about 7.30 by which Lewis Miller met instant death. Mr. Miller was employed by the Nittany Valley Railroad, as a conductor. At the above mentioned time the crew were engaged in switching in the furnace yard and while in the act of uncoupling cars Mr. Miller's foot was caught between the guard rail throwing him to the ground, the wheels passing over, and terribly crushing the unfortunate mans body. Death was instantaneous. The body was turned over to undertaker Naginey to prepare for burial. Mr. Miller was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and was aged 39 years. Besides his wife and six children he is survived by his aged father and mother and the following brotheas and sisters: James Jr. Charles, John, Robert Kale, Russell, Maude, Grace and Mrs. Merl Spearer.

Your Making Trouble

For yourself when you willfully neglect your teeth. Modern dentistry is practiced at this office in all its branches prices reasonable. W. H. Kochler, den. Harris building.

Lost—Between High street and Bellefonte furnace a ladys gold watch with the owners name carved thereon. Finder will please return to Daily News. Apr 30-1w

PERSONALS

Short But Newsy Personals of Those Who Come And Go.

Miss Minnie Shank is visiting friends in Zion.

James Black of Philipsburg was a Bellefonte visitor this week.

Hon. James Schofield attended a gathering of Odd Fellows last week in Canton Pa.

Col. Fred Reynolds was an arrival home this morning.

George Spotts of Unionville was in town today on business.

Will Weber of Howard transacted business in Bellefonte yesterday.

Mr. Thomas Shawley of Milesburg was greeting his friends in town today.

Col. James P. Coburn left Sat. afternoon for Ashontuig where he spent Sunday.

Prof. John S. Meyer left Sat. afternoon for Centre Hall to spend Sunday with his parents.

Mr and Mrs. Andrew Knisely of State College are visiting friends in Bellefonte.

J. S. McCargar, the hustling life insurance agent, was a business visitor in Altoona Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hess and three children left Friday afternoon for Williamsport, where they will make their future home.

Messrs Harry O. Pletcher and William Holter both prominent resident of Howard were pleasant callers at the Republican Office while in town Friday Messrs Pletcher and Holter are serving their country as jurors this week.

William Reed is visiting friends at Pine Grove Mills.

Jacob Weber of Howard is spending the day in town.

Judge Ellis L. Orvis was an arrival home this morning.

Mr. W. J. Carlin of Reberaburg was a Bellefonte visitor Thursday.

Mr. Thomas J. Sexton spent Sunday at his home in Tyrone.

Mrs. J. A. Mull of Philipsburg is visiting friends in Bellefonte.

James S. Furst has arrived home from a business trip to Florida.

Miss Nora Brown of Hanover, is visiting an the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Young.

Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker returned Friday evening from an extended visit in Atlantic city.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Herr and little son Fred together with Mr. Ira Krap of Salona spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wade Cruse.

Miss Julia Bidwell after a very pleasant visit at her home in this place returned to Pittsburg Sunday.

Mr. G. W. Young of Nittany was a a pleasant caller at the Republican office while in Bellefonte Saturday.

Dr. H. W. Tate who has been transacting business at Elkins, W. Va., for the past ten days returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs Miles Osmer and children of Jersey Shore are visiting friends in Bellefonte.

After spending the winter abroad, Mrs. Murry Andrews is at her home on Allegheny street.

Mrs. H. W. Tate arrived home Thursday, after an extended visit with friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Albert Rumberger of Patton is spending a few days with Mrs. J. C. Rumberger on East Linn Street.

Mrs. Fink and Mrs. Scott Bricker, two sisters of Mrs. J. F. Stover from Tyrone are visiting Mrs. Stover in Beaver Row.

Harry Winton the obliging conductor on the C. R. R. spent the forepart of last week in Punxsutawney and Pittsburg, Pa.

Mr. F. D. Ray, late proprietor of the Altamonte hotel in Altoona is visiting his son H. S. Ray at the Brockerhoff House.

Mrs. Isaac Maitland and children of Williamsport were arrivals in town this week on a visit to her father Mr. Daniel Garman.

Mr. George T. Brew who has been in Bellefonte since the funeral of the late Mrs. George W. Jackson, left Fri. morning for Williamsport to spend Sunday.

Mr. A. J. Griest of Unionville was a visitor in town Tuesday.

Edward Beezer of Philipsburg, spent Tuesday with friends in town.

Dr. Joseph M Brockerhoff has returned from an extended trip to Atlantic City.

Miss Lizzie Brugger of Unionville is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. George Fisher and little son of Boalsburg are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Joseph Lose and son of Altoona were arrivals in Bellefonte Tuesday.

Mr D. W. Boyer of Yarnell, was an agreeable caller at the Republican office while in town Wednesday.

Dorsey Calhoun and son of Unionville, were pleasant callers at the Republican office while in town Tuesday.

F. W. Crider returned Monday evening from a trip to Philadelphia.

Mr. Monroe Armor is visiting his daughter Mrs. Claude Jones in Tyrone.

Rev. Richard Crittenden spent Sunday with friends at Williamsport returning home this morning.

Miss Rebecca Rhoads returned home Monday evening from a very enjoyable visit with friends at Chambersburg.

Ex. County Commissioner Thomas Fisher of Unionville, was greeting his friends in town Tuesday.

Mr. Harry Young of Howard in company with Mr Lucas of Bellefonte were pleasant callers at the Republican office Monday.

Rev. George I. Browne of Harrisburg, arrived in Bellefonte Tuesday, and while here was the officiating minister at several weddings.

Col. James P. Coburn, Messrs. William P. Humes and J. Wallace Gephart left Monday on a business trip to Somerset.

Mrs. Myra McKee who has been at the home of H. Y. Sitzer for eight weeks returned to her home in Wilkinsburg Pa., very much improved in health.

Mrs. Wesley Shreffler of Osceola Mills and William McMullen of East Tyrone were called here by the serious illness and death of their sister, Mary McMullen.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Beaver and little daughter, arrived in Bellefonte Monday evening from New York City and will occupy the Nichols property on Curtin street.

Death of Martin Daley.

Martin Daley aged about 75 years died Sunday at twelve o'clock after a few days illness of neuralgia.

Mr. Daley was born in Ireland and came to this country when a young man. He settled at Gum Stump in Centre county where he engaged in farming. He was a good neighbor, a kind and industrious man. Surviving him are his wife and four sons, two sisters and one brother Mrs. Gallagher of Virginia, Mrs Kelly and Mr Daley of Wilmington, Delaware.

Funeral services were held in St. John's Catholic church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Berry to Pay Funds to Schools on Time.

The state department of public instruction Wednesday completed the calculation for the distribution of the state apprpriation to the public schools for the school year beginning the first Monday of June, 1906.

The entire appropriation is $5,550,000. Of this $237,500 is diverted to paying the tuition of students in the state normal schools and $100,000 for the payment of districts maintaining township high schools.

This fund is due on the first Monday of June next and it is expected that State Treasurer-elect Berry will pay the districts as fast as they file their annual reports. The custom has been for the state treasurer to await until September or October before beginning payment with the result that many districts had to borrow money to tide them over until they receive their share of this fund.

The appropriation is distributed on the basis of one-third on the number of resident taxable one-third on the number of children between 6 and 16 years of age, and one-third on the number of regularly employed teachers.

New returns were made in 1905, and are used in calculation for the distribution of the appropriation for the coming year. This changes the amount due the different districts through the state.

Clinton county's allotment is $26,830. Lycoming $69,011, Centre $39,176, and Clearfield $77.567.

Timber Land Burned on Nittany Mountain.

Under control fire is a great and indispensable agent; beyond control it is one of the most destructive. This was proved last week when fire raged on Nittany mountain, destroying thousands of dollars worth of young timber growing on the several thousand acres run over by the elements, says the Centre Hall Reporter.

Numerous attempts were made by land owners to extinguish the furious flames, but at no time was any particular good done by their efforts. It was impossible to secure sufficient help to combat the steady march of the fiery column. Portions of the timber tract along the foot of the mountain was shielded for a time, but later the flames leaped the barriers and went merrily on.

Saturday evening about 8 o'clock a slight rain fell and extinguished the flames, performing a mission in a few minutes that to man was an impossibility.

The fire which was possibly the most destructive on Nittany mountain for many years, originated immediately north of Centre Hall, at the mountain's edge. Wednesday afternoon Jacob From set fire to a handful of grass and brush along his fence which bounds the mountain proper, and it was but an instant until the fire spread, and within a brief time the whole side of the mountain was enveloped in flames.

The sight at night was most beautiful and spectacular, and was watched for hours by t e tow nsp eople